New Members From Omineca and Burrard Presented to the Speaker

To Abolish Individual Commercial Fish Licenses; Municipal Aid Mentioned

With the customary booming of cannons across the Causeway, the swing of kilts of Highlanders and the colorful uniforms of militia officers, the eighteenth Legislature of British Columbia opened for its fourth session this afternoon.

Traditional ceremonials of British Parliamentary openings were carried out with Lieutenant-Governor E. W. Hamber officiating for the first time.

The reading of a lengthy speech from the Throne by His Honor and the presentation of two newly-elected members occupied upwards of three-quarters of an hour before the House adjourned ready to launch the opening debate tomorrow.

His Honor arrived from Government House at 3 o'clock accompanied by his aides, Lieut.-Commander F. R. W. Gow, R.C.N., and Major W. M. Turner, and A. M. D. Fairbairn, private secretary.

The salute of twenty-one guns was fired by the 86th battery, R.C.A., thundering out across the harbor as the Lieutenant-Governor's car drove up.

INSPECTS GUARD

His Honor inspected the guard of honor furnished by the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish Regiment, in charge of Capt. P. N. Cabellou, and Lieutenants C. M. Whiteman and L. Roundling.

Entering the buildings the Lieutenant-Governor was met by Premier Pattullo, going to the executive chamber while Mr. Speaker Perry called the House to order.

The floor and galleries of the Legislative chamber were packed for the ceremonies. The government house party on the floor included: Mrs. Hamber, Hon. W. L. Walsh, recently retired Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, and Mrs. Walsh; Capt. and Mrs. W. H. Molson, Mrs. Hendry, mother of Mrs. Hamber, and Mrs. Mac Rice private secretary.

"Make way for His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor," cried attendants, as His Honor, accompanied by the Premier and Speaker, and preceded by his aides and the Sergeant-at-Arms, filed into the chamber to read the Speech.

WILL REPAIR VESSEL HERE

Yarrow's Limited Awarded Contract to Repair Ss. Temple Moat at Esquimalt

In competition with ship repair firms of Vancouver and Seattle, Yarrow's Limited of Esquimalt was this morning awarded contract for repairs of the British freighter Temple Moat, which was badly damaged in collision with the American freighter Maudslowi on Race Rocks early Saturday morning.

The price of contract was not mentioned. Work will take about twenty-one days and will give employment to a large group of men during that period.

The Temple Moat, which has been anchored in the Royal Roads, where survey was carried out, moved into the Yarrow dock in Esquimalt harbor early this afternoon. Work was started immediately.

This job will be one of the biggest carried out in Esquimalt harbor in some years. Several plates on the port quarter will be replaced and other work carried out. The most serious damage is well above the water line, although it will be necessary to put the ship into the Dominion Government drydock at Esquimalt before she is ready for sea again.

Portugal Said to Recognize Franco As Spain's Chief

London Hears Lisbon Deals Officially With Provisional Government; Uneasiness in Paris as International Dangers Grow

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, Oct. 27.—Portugal has recognized the provisional government of General Francisco Franco in Spain, it was reported here today in usually well-informed quarters.

When Madrid falls to the insurgents, it is expected Italy and Germany will likewise recognize the Franco administration, these quarters said.

Then will open a new and more dangerous phase of the Spanish civil war. With the Spanish insurgents installed in Madrid, Barcelona is likely to become the centre of an independent red Catalonia, supported by Russia and menaced by Italy and Germany.

Paris already is uneasy over the prospect. Unconfirmed reports have been published here that Italians commanding the Spanish fascists in the Balearic Islands are preparing to act against independent Catalonia.

OPINION IN BRITAIN

The London Daily Mail presses that when Madrid falls there should not be "the slightest hesitation on Britain's part in recognizing Gen. Franco's administration as the lawful government of Spain... above all, there must be no waiting on the League of Nations."

Mr. Justice Hawke Grants Decree Separating Ernest A. Simpson and His Wife After Evidence From Mrs. Simpson and Three Hotel Employees; Mrs. Simpson on Witness Stand for Fourteen Minutes

Associated Press

Ipswich, Suffolk, Eng., Oct. 27.—Mrs. Wallis Simpson, formerly of Baltimore, won a divorce from her husband in a hearing at the Ipswich assizes today.

Mr. Justice Sir Anthony Hawke announced a decree nisi after hearing formal testimony.

Costs of the case were charged to the defendant, Ernest Aldrich Simpson, who did not contest the divorce.

The decree will be made absolute within six months. The hearing lasted seventeen minutes. Mrs. Simpson was on the stand for fourteen minutes.

She was questioned by her counsel, Norman Birkett, to bring out the facts of the divorce case.

She produced three letters, which she handed to the judge.

Her evidence alleged that her husband, a shipping broker, was guilty of misconduct at the Hotel de Paris, at Bray, near Maidenhead, Berkshire, at the end of July.

A bellboy, a waiter and a clerk identified the hotel register to show the alleged misconduct.

Mrs. Simpson, in a trim blue suit with a polka-dot blouse and a smart blue waiker hat at a jaunty angle, showed not the slightest trace of nerves.

At 2.45 p.m., a little more than an hour after she had reached the assizes, her automobile left the court precincts.

She had left the courtroom before Mr. Justice Hawke handed down his decision.

DID NOT FACE CROWD
She was already standing in the witness box when spectators entered and not once did she turn and face the crowd.

Known as a stickler for correct court procedure, the judge was stern both with Birkett, one of Britain's most able lawyers, and with Mrs. Simpson's other counsel, Walter Frampton. He paid no attention to the plaintiff, studying the papers in the case and devoting his attention to the lawyers.

Finally the celebrated jurist announced: "Very well, a decree nisi."

When the case was over, all the doors to the courtroom were locked for a few minutes and even the counsel in the proceedings were unable to leave.

POLICE CAR ON DUTY

Outside, a police car pulled up across the road while the Simpson automobile rolled out of a courtyard gate and sped away. Occupants of the machine held newspapers up in front of the windows to prevent Mrs. Simpson from being photographed.

Seven policemen, four of them in plain clothes, stood facing the spectators, near the press box, during the entire hearing, apparently watching for cameras, which were banned.

Mr. Justice Hawke interrupted counsel several times during the proceedings.

Once he pulled up Frampton sharply when he tried to identify Mr. Simpson from a picture.

SUMMONED, BUT NOT THERE
The co-respondent was not named at any time.

Near the end of the hearing, Mr. Justice Hawke mentioned this fact. Birkett replied: "She was subpoenaed, My Lord, but she has not appeared."

Testimony, however, was introduced to the effect that the co-respondent had been to a solicitor's office with Simpson a week or so after the alleged incident occurred.

Big Cash Surplus Is Shown By Hart

Finance Minister Reports $2,619,175 Favorable Balance on Current Operations For Last Fiscal Year, But Debt Increased By Unemployment Relief; Revenues Hit New Record of $25,862,077

In the fiscal year ending last March 31, British Columbia had a cash surplus of $2,619,175.42 on its operating account, which does not cover the cost of relief nor provided for all the sinking funds, it was revealed when Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, tabled the public accounts in the Legislature this afternoon.

This surplus was left, Mr. Hart explained, after all expenditures were covered with the exception of these two items.

Revenue during the year reached a new record figure of $15,862,077.32 and expenditure was $13,242,901.90. The revenue showed an increase of $3,100,357.86 from the previous year.

Expenditures were $1,645,358 higher. In 1934-35 Mr. Hart had a current surplus of $1,164,175.56, which, added to his big surplus of last year, produced the necessary funds to pay off a $3,500,000 loan maturity on May 15 of this year.

A certain amount of debt redemption has also been carried on by the repayment of some $370,000 a year in sinking funds against inscribed stock.

Since November, 1935, the province, as a result, has paid off over $5,000,000 of debt.

At the same time, of course, he explained unemployment relief charges, borrowed from the Dominion Government, have piled up at the rate of about $5,000,000 a year, but these are not classed as a charge against the current account. Sinking fund payments, except for inscribed stock, have been suspended.

Cuxhaven, Germany, Oct. 27.—The lightship Elbe in the Elbe estuary was reported today to have capsized in a violent southerly gale with fifteen men aboard.

Witnesses aboard a British steamship reported the lightship was overwhelmed by a huge breaker and was not seen again.

Attempts to send assistance from shore failed because of the mountainous seas.

North-sea points reported numerous distress calls along Dutch, German and Danish coasts. Much inland damage was reported from a high tide which swept over the Dutch coast.

Challe, grounded once and forced to return to Paris to start over again, was the last entrant left in the race.

The team of Maurice Arnoux and Andre Japy, French long-distance fliers, crashed yesterday while landing at Karachi, India, far in the van of the other racers, and were forced out.

Backers of the speed pilot Michael Detroyat said he had abandoned the race definitely after motor trouble had made it impossible for him to continue.

Farm Aid Scheme Goes Into Effect

Province Ratifies Agreement With Dominion Government to Give Unemployed Jobs on B.C. Farms; Schedule of Payments Given

The farm improvement and employment plan sponsored by the Federal and Provincial governments to place unemployed men on farms for the winter has now been ratified by the two governments and will go into operation in British Columbia. Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, announced today.

Under the agreement between the two authorities youths over sixteen years of age "unemployed and without means of support" will be eligible for the plan.

They will be placed on farms and paid at an average of $7.50 per month, furnished transportation to the farm and given $3 toward the cost of winter work clothes.

The farmer who accepts the labor will be given $5 per month for each individual he takes as a payment toward his board.

Farmers will have to agree to keep a man at least until next March 31, providing he is an honest and willing worker, but provision is made for a month's notice by either party.

Authority is given to graduate the wage payments to unemployed or pay them a portion while they are working, but they are not to receive less than $5 in any one month.

The Dominion and provincial governments will divide the cost of the scheme equally.

In accepting the scheme, which was advanced by the federal authorities, the provincial government has previously made clear it does not consider the plan will work satisfactorily in this province, but is willing to co-operate fully with the Dominion in trying it out.

Italy Is Ready For Defence Says Duce

Nation Stronger Than Ever Before, Mussolini Tells Blackshirts as Fascism Begins Its 15th Year

Associated Press

Rome, Oct. 27.—Premier Mussolini today said Italy was ready to "repeat her heroic efforts against anyone in defence of the empire."

"Duce's assertion was contained in his message to Italian Blackshirts on the eve of the beginning of the fifteenth year of Fascism."

"Italy today is stronger than ever before," he said, "and tempered by her heroic efforts, is ready to repeat them against anyone in defence of the empire."

"It is with particular enthusiasm that we celebrate the fourteenth anniversary of the march on Rome," he continued, "as it falls in the first year of an empire conquered by the valor of our soldiers and the discipline of our people against a world of enemies in the open and enemies in ambush."

"Italy is stronger than ever," he said, "having won victory, sanctions having collapsed and League opposition scattered."

"PLACE IN THE SUN"

The march to Addis Ababa, Duce asserted, was an historical and logical consequence of the march on Rome in 1922 when Fascism began its rise to power.

"We have conquered our place in the sun. Our pride is legitimate and the work which we shall carry on in Africa will be a contribution to civilization worthy of the 1,000-year-old traditions of Italy."

Dozens of closed stores bore on their shutters a hastily scrawled placard, bearing the legend in Spanish, "Gone to war."

The government reported 600 Fascists had been killed in sharp fighting at Oviedo, on the far northwest front on the Bay of Biscay coast.

GERMAN SUBMARINES

Canadian Press from Havas

Paris, Oct. 27.—Genevieve Tabouis, foreign affairs commentator of L'Ouvrier, declared today fifteen German submarines, five bombing planes and an infantry contingent entered the Mediterranean on October 19 to join Italian forces on the Balearic Islands in a surprise assault against Catalonia.

Eight submarines are ready to leave their naval bases with the Balearics as their destination," she said.

"Their crews are made up of mechanics and marines affiliated to the Spanish Fascist party (the Phalanx) of Primo de Rivera. But command is in the hands of Italian officers."

"Their task will be to patrol the strait formed by the Balearics and Catalonia and prevent the approach of any war vessel."

Talavera de la Reina, Spain, Oct. 27.—British and United States newspaper correspondents, captured by Fascists while on an expedition from Madrid, today said the capital was in a state of semi-starvation and declared:

"It is quite possible the militia will run from Madrid when it is attacked. Madrid can be taken within two days."

The correspondents were James Minifie, formerly of Vanguard, Sask., correspondent of the New York Herald-Tribune, Dennis Weaver of London News-Chronicle and Henry Gorrell of the United Press.

The newspapermen, who were sent to Salamanca for questioning by Generalissimo Francisco Franco, privately told their American colleagues of continually retreating with the Socialist forces in what they described as "complete rout" after recent battles on the Madrid front.

LONG FOOD LINES

They said long lines of food seekers were forming in Madrid, with supplies limited.

"There is no more butter," one of them said. "Meat, sugar and coffee are difficult to obtain. The highest-priced restaurants sometimes only serve one dish, such as mutton stew, which runs out before all the diners have been served."

"There are many trenches around Madrid," the correspondents added, "but they are nothing more than shallow ditches such as the militia deserted at Navacerrada as soon as the Moors got within rifle range."

The newspapermen's story gave the first unvarnished picture of conditions in Madrid in many days.

Reich Monarchy Report Denied

Associated Press

Berlin, Oct. 27.—An official Nazi spokesman today branded as "utter nonsense" a report in a Paris newspaper that Chancellor Hitler was contemplating restoration of the German monarchy.

A press dispatch published yesterday evening by L'Information, Paris, said Chancellor Hitler was reported to be planning to re-establish a German monarchy to perpetuate Nazism. It was said he had decided on the Brunswick-Lincolshire family.

Vancouver, Oct. 27.—William Thompson was in a hospital today with chest injuries suffered yesterday when run over by his bakery wagon.

The driver's condition is reported not serious.

MADRID MEN MAKE SORTIE

RAID BY PLANES

Associated Press

Madrid, Oct. 27.—Insurgent aircraft machine-gunned Madrid today, but confined their fire largely to government anti-aircraft batteries.

Five Fascist planes and government artillery fought a sharp duel when the attacking craft circled over the capital in broad daylight. Inhabitants rushed to windows to watch the spectacular exchange of machine gun fire. There were no casualties on either side.

The insurgent planes reconnoitred over the city for a while and then sped away. They returned again, circled out of range of anti-aircraft fire, and then disappeared.

ALL IN THE FIGHT

"General mobilisation must be ordered," thundered leaders of the Confederacion Nacional Trabajadores (Spanish Workers' Union), cheering on the streets of raw recruits marching forth to bolster war-weary front line militia.

Thousands of volunteers were organized into battalions of reservists and trench diggers. Trucks rumbled through the city taking materials for the construction of a "death necklace" of concrete machine-gun pillboxes around the city.

The distant rumble of gunfire, clearly audible in Madrid, quickened the pulses of women and children left alone as their men surged out in a desperate attempt to save the capital.

Dozens of closed stores bore on their shutters a hastily scrawled placard, bearing the legend in Spanish, "Gone to war."

The government reported 600 Fascists had been killed in sharp fighting at Oviedo, on the far northwest front on the Bay of Biscay coast.

IMPROVEMENT IS REVIEWED

The new Fraser River bridge will be open to traffic early next fall, it is expected, the Governor said.

TEXT OF SPEECH

Text of the speech follows:

"Mr. Speaker and members of the Legislative Assembly:

"I welcome you to the fourth session of the Eighteenth Parliament of British Columbia.

"While business conditions have been showing marked improvement, fragile unrest and uncertainty prevail in many parts of the world.

"During the year our Gracious Sovereign King Edward VIII has been the messenger of goodwill to various countries of Europe.

"His Excellency Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, visited our province, much to the interest and pleasure of our people.

"In connection with the Vancouver Jubilee, Right Honourable Sir Percy Vincent, Lord Mayor of London, visited our province, and his most cordially welcomed by our citizens.

"The year has been marked by the presence of many distinguished visitors and the tourist traffic generally has been the heaviest in the history of the province.

"In conjunction with the Dominion Government, my government has been carrying out a considerable amount of necessary and desirable road construction. It is the aim of my government to provide that class of road accommodation for the benefit of the provincialist, the settler, and the tourist as rapidly as circumstances will permit.

"Extraordinary floods did a very considerable amount of damage in many portions of the province and every effort was put forward to meet the situation caused thereby.

"Difficulties were experienced in the construction of the Fraser River Bridge at New Westminster through extraordinary high water, but this has been overcome. Satisfactory progress is being made on the structure, and it is expected that the bridge will be open for traffic early next fall.

"Continued advancement in the timber industry is indicated by the returns, the heaviest increase being that of the province. Prospects are very encouraging for the future.

"There is good reason to believe that increased activity will take place in the pulp and paper industry.

"The advancement of the young men's forestry training plan has been very gratifying. Young men participating are given a fair grounding in all branches of forestry work and steady employment has been found for a considerable number through this movement.

"Measures are under way for the adjustment of boundaries of counties, mining divisions, land recording districts, assessment and collection districts throughout the province. This will very much simplify as well as lessen the cost of administration.

"Definite progress has been made in the field of public health, especially with respect to the treatment and control of tuberculosis and venereal disease. The problems of juvenile delinquency and mental hygiene have also been attacked.

"My government has under legislative authority, made the necessary changes to enable the British Columbia Cancer Foundation to purchase a supply of radium.

"Preliminary work relative to the organization of health insurance is nearing completion and it is expected that benefits under the act will be available early in 1937.

Rev. Father Coughlin in Cleveland Speech Scores WPA System in U.S.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 27.—Rev. Charles E. Coughlin yesterday evening called Franklin D. Roosevelt the "scab President" and termed him "the greatest employer of scab labor in all history."

The Works Progress Administration, he said, was a "great scab army," which he added was paid an insufficient wage.

A throng which jammed Cleveland's public hall gave the priest, on his third visit here this year, a noisy welcome, and interspersed his remarks with vigorous applause.

SCHOOLS IN ALASKA CLOSED

Kanabek, Alaska, Oct. 27.—(Canadian Press)—Schools at Snag Point and Clark Point were closed in Kanabek today to prevent an outbreak of scarlet fever from spreading in the Mushagak Bay area on Bristol Bay.

Divorce Granted Mrs. Wallis Simpson

LIVED HAPPILY

Mrs. Simpson's case was that she had lived happily with her husband until the autumn of 1934, when she said she had noticed a change in his manner.

"He began going away for weekends," she testified.

When Birkett asked Mrs. Simpson her name the judge asked:

"Why has this case come here?"

A whispered consultation between the registrar of the court and the judge ensued.

Birkett resumed his questioning of Mrs. Simpson.

She said she had been living at Beech House, in nearby Feltham, near London, at the time.

The judge again interrupted.

"The petition reads that you live at Bryanston Court," he remarked.

Birkett explained the plaintiff had recently moved.

MARRIED IN 1928

"Were you married to the respondent, Ernest Aldrich Simpson, on July 21, 1928, at the registry office in the District of Chelsea?" the attorney asked.

"Yes," Mrs. Simpson replied, in a steady voice.

"Is there any issue of that marriage?"

"No."

"Did you live happily with the respondent until the autumn of 1934?"

"Yes."

"Was it at that time that the respondent's manner changed toward you?"

"Yes."

"He changed in his affection toward me."

She had complained about this change, she said, but Simpson paid no attention.

NOTE WAS FOUND

Then she declared that on Christmas Day of 1934 she found a note on his dressing table in a woman's handwriting.

The note was produced and passed up to the judge, who did not read it aloud, but commented: "I cannot understand it. At present it is evidence against nobody."

Proceeding, Mrs. Simpson said that shortly after Easter of this year she had received a letter in an envelope addressed to her, although the contents appeared intended for Simpson.

This letter also was handed up, but the judge again read it only to himself.

Thereafter, Mrs. Simpson continued, she went to her lawyers and had a watch placed on her husband.

As a result of these observations, she said, she received information on which her petition was based.

She gave the judge a letter which she said she had written to Simpson on July 28, last. This referred to Simpson's alleged misconduct at Bray.

Then she identified the hotel register which had been signed in her husband's hand, left the witness box and took a seat beside Birkett.

HOTEL WITNESSES

The hotel witnesses came next. First was Archibald Trevelyan of Glasgow, a floor waiter at the Hotel de Paris.

On the night of July 21, Trevelyan testified, "a lady and a gentleman" occupied room No. 4.

The next morning, he went on, he took breakfast into the room, where he saw the two.

Frampton, during the hotel testimony, produced a group picture which included Simpson and asked: "Have you ever seen that man in the left-hand corner?"

"You must not identify the man for him like that," Mr. Justice Hawke said.

SAW DOCUMENTS SERVED

Simpson at length was identified and Trevelyan related that with another hotel employee, he went to a solicitor's offices on Leadenhall Street, London, where he saw a man and woman served with certain documents.

Answering a question, Trevelyan turned to Mrs. Simpson and announced emphatically: "She was not the lady I saw at the hotel."

A second hotel employee took the stand to declare that on the morning of July 22, when Trevelyan was off duty, he served breakfast in the same room and "saw a lady and a gentleman together."

He also stated Mrs. Simpson was not the woman in question.

Christina Hesser, hotel hall porter, testified he had received a "lady and gentleman" on July 21 and showed them to room 4. He also identified the hotel register.

PROOF ACCEPTED

When Hesser left the witness-box, Birkett said to the judge:

"I ask for a decree nisi."

"I suppose I must come to the conclusion there is adultery in this case."

He threw the papers on the bench and added:

"Very well, a decree nisi."

"With costs, My Lord," asked Birkett.

SOCIAL SERVICE REQUEST MADE

Canadian Press
Vernon, B.C., Oct. 27.—A request that the British Columbia Government take over the entire burden of social service costs now borne by municipalities will be made by the Okanagan Valley Mayors' and Reeves' Association.

At a meeting of the association held last week-end, Mayor C. E. Scanlan of Kamloops, as a member of the executive of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, said: "It seems assured the government is to give us substantial relief, perhaps to the extent of assuming 50 per cent of our present social service costs."

Replies to Mayor Scanlan, Mayor O. J. Jones of Kelowna said the municipal situation would never be fairly adjusted until such time as the government assumes all the social service costs.

A resolution asking that the provincial government take these burdens from the municipalities was passed by the delegates.

MEDICAL AID TO MADRID PEOPLE

Quebec, Oct. 27.—Dr. Norman Bethune, head of the Canadian Committee for Medical Aid to Spain, intends to deliver medical supplies to Madrid "whether or not the city falls before the invading forces."

The Montreal doctor sailed for Europe Saturday aboard the liner Empress of Britain, two days earlier than he was expected to depart. He is heading a medical mission to the republic expected to deliver an airplane load of medical apparatus and serums in Madrid next week.

"Whether or not Madrid falls before the invading forces," I will complete my mission," he said before embarking.

Los Angeles Bars Floaters

Police Guard City Boundaries Against Influx of Penniless Transients

Associated Press
Los Angeles, Oct. 27.—Los Angeles police installed another blockade against transients today, this time at the city limits instead of the state border.

Determined to make this an unpleasant resort for indigent floaters, Police Chief James E. Davis said undesirable who run the blockade will spend a winter at hard labor in prison camps. He recommended six-month sentences.

Davis' "foreign legion," putting reverse English on the open door policy at the California border last winter, aroused the ire of neighboring state authorities.

"We don't intend to extend police jurisdiction to border stations this winter," the chief said. "That was an emergency measure, but we certainly intend to ring the city limits with a guard which will keep men out or they will land in work camps."

NO MORE LAZY WINTERS

There will be no more lazy winters for these "lazy" wanderers. The past the city has supported too many of them in jails, giving them good food and warm lodging at the taxpayers' expense.

As the initial steps in erecting a barrier to unemployed wanderers, Los Angeles police were dispatched today to Colton and Victorville, on main routes to Los Angeles. They were sent to check up on the influx of migratory vagrants into the state—an already alarming influx, said Davis.

RAILROADS AID STEPS

Orders for the blockade were issued yesterday after Davis had conferred with his officers and heard reports from railroad officials who promised their co-operation.

"I would like all housewives approached by beggars for food to notify us," Davis said. "A check has shown that a very large percentage of these food beggars are not like the hoboes of old."

"The modern beggar for food is merely a stool pigeon looking over the lay of the land preparatory to a future burglary."

"Mother, what does dee-dee stand for?"

"Doctor of Divinity, my dear. Don't they teach you such things in school?"

"Oh, yes; but it doesn't sound right here."

"Read it out loud, dear."

"The witness said he heard the defendant say, 'I'll make you suffer for this. I'll be Doctor of Divinity if I don't.'"

Spaniards Plan To Speak Here

Trio Touring Canada For Madrid Government Hopes to Visit Victoria

Victoria is scheduled to be visited by three Spaniards now starting a speaking tour of Canadian and United States cities, explaining the Madrid government's side in the civil war. If the travelers succeed in their plan to cross Canada from Niagara Falls, where they are today, they expect also to speak in Vancouver.

Canadian Press
New York, Oct. 27.—A party of speakers for the Madrid government in Spain was on its way to Canada today after one of the number, Rev. Father Luis Sarasola, had been denounced as an apostate.

The label was applied to the monk, said to be a member of the Franciscan Order of Friars Minor, by Rev. Father Peter Duffy, acting for the head of the New York branch of the order. A cablegram from Rome was the basis of the denunciation, Father Duffy said.

Madison Square Garden crowd of more than 20,000 yesterday evening heard the monk and his colleagues, a woman diplomat and a former cabinet member, defend the Madrid regime. A collection for the cause realized $10,000 in cash, $5,000 in pledges and two gold flags.

EXPLAINING SITUATION

"I have come here with my two colleagues, sent by the legitimate government of Spain to explain what the real situation is in regard to our country," Father Sarasola told the gathering, which was sponsored by the North American Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy.

The audience listened every mention of Fascism and cheered references to the Spanish government.

The other speakers were Marcelino Domingo, former Minister of Education and president of the Left Republican Party, and Senora Isabella de Palencia, former Spanish delegate to the League of Nations.

AT NIAGARA FALLS

The party today was carrying its propaganda campaign into Canada, with speeches scheduled in Niagara Falls Ont., this evening. Later they plan to visit London, Windsor, Sudbury, Winnipeg, Edmonton, Regina, Saskatoon, Vancouver and Victoria, returning through the United States.

NOT IN MONTREAL

Father Sarasola will not return to Montreal, where he was unable to obtain permission to speak last week. He is a member of a group of Madrid government sympathizers on a North American speaking tour.

RECEIVED PRISONER

Yesterday evening Father Duffy expressed belief that Father Luis Sarasola "is held a virtual prisoner by agents of the Spanish government."

Acting for the provincial of the New York province of the Order of Friars Minor, Father Duffy said that while Father Sarasola was in Montreal last week a New York commission was sent to the Canadian metropolis to investigate the Spanish Franciscan's status. Access to Father Sarasola was denied the commission by Father Sarasola's traveling companions, Father Duffy said. He added:

"I and a friend attempted to interview him here, but we also were denied an audience. It is our conviction that Father Sarasola is being held a virtual prisoner."

WORKED IN MADRID

Father Duffy said Father Sarasola had been attached to the Franciscan house of studies in Madrid as one of a group of scholars assigned to that foundation. At the outbreak of the civil war the Franciscan fathers attached to the study house were arrested by the Anana government, the prisoners numbering some fifteen.

One of them was an American from the New York province. He obtained his release and took refuge in the United States embassy. From him information about Father Sarasola was obtained, Father Duffy said.

With the exception of the United States citizen, all of the priests of the study house were executed, but Father Sarasola, Father Duffy said.

"We believe he was spared at the instance of the Communists, because they felt they might have future use for him," he declared.

Blind Veteran On Long Tour

Sergt. A. M. Nichols of St.
Dunstan's, London, Visits
New York

Canadian Press
New York, Oct. 27.—Blind and without hands, a British war veteran today was experiencing his first visit to New York.

Sergeant Alan Mitchell Nichols, although he arrived only yesterday from Toronto, has already visited several night clubs. He said he enjoyed dancing in them, but felt somewhat like a sardine.

Nichols likes dancing, and for more strenuous exercise he takes to swimming, rowing and riding a bicycle or a horse. He also plays a good game of bridge. All this he does unaided, in addition to the ordinary things like typewriting, eating, shaving, brushing his teeth and telling the time from his wrist watch.

Most of these functions are accomplished by means of appliances which Nichols has invented to fit into the cavity of his artificial arm. These gadgets permit him to live the life of a more nearly normal person.

For instance, to tell the time he merely presses the dial of his watch to his face. The hours are marked on the dial by small raised dots.

WOUNDED IN 1916

Nichols was injured in an explosion while he was a bombing instructor at South Shields in 1916. He was treated at famous St. Dunstan's Home for Blind Soldiers and Sailors in London. He is now on the staff of St. Dunstan's and travels more than 30,000 miles a year, lecturing and speaking about the institution.

Riding a tandem, Nichols said he recently accomplished the fifty-four-mile journey between London and Brighton in four hours and one minute, despite a spill during an encounter with an automobile and a farm cart. On several other occasions he has traveled by tandem from London to Leeds, a distance of 180 miles, between sunrise and sunset.

DRESSES FEAS

Los Angeles, Oct. 27 (Canadian Press).—Mrs. Katherine B. Nugent's hobby is dressing fleas.

With the aid of a powerful microscope she attires them in fine silk tissue. A bride wears a trailing wedding veil and the groom sports a top hat, and two others carry a tiny parasol and a cane.

"My pet Pekingese, Hi-Gid, supplies the fleas," she explained, "and I supply the patience."

Prison Farms Are Advocated

Commission Holds Hearing
in New Brunswick

Canadian Press
Saint John, N.B., Oct. 27.—Creation of one or more prison farms in New Brunswick was urged before the royal commission on penal institutions at a public sitting here yesterday.

Submitting a brief on behalf of the social service council of Fredericton Diocese, Rev. Canon J. V. Young scored over-crowding and the lack of sufficient ventilation, sanitation, segregation and employment in the Saint John County jail.

DEBTORS IMPRISONED

Members of the commission expressed surprise at the system under which debtors in New Brunswick may be imprisoned.

"That was abolished in Ontario and Quebec about 100 years ago," the chairman, Mr. Justice Archambault of Montreal, remarked.

"Does the public of this province stand for that?" asked R. W. Craig, K.C., Winnipeg, a member of the commission, when told by Deputy Sheriff Armstrong B. Clifford that a man could be put in jail before it is determined whether he can pay his debt or not.

When Mr. Clifford termed it "an unfortunate occurrence," Mr. Craig said, "That's putting it very mildly, I would say," while Mr. Justice Archambault added, "You're very generous."

NEW RULES FOR FRENCH PRESS

Associated Press
Paris, Oct. 27.—Premier Blum, a former newspaperman, has set out to "clean up" the French press.

M. Blum, once a drama critic, and editor of the Socialist newspaper Populaire until his assumption of the premiership, announced his government would present two bills to Parliament:

1. Providing restrictions "to put an end to personal defamation."

2. Requiring newspapers to make known their sources of revenue.

The Premier promised his measures would not limit the liberty of the press.

IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

"We wish simply to put an end to personal defamation," he said. "The press is an industry, and we want that industry to work in broad daylight. There is not a journal worthy of the name, nor a publisher, who can protest against such measures."

"It is necessary that public opinion, often naive and credulous, cease to be at the mercy of interests which often lean almost to treason."

The bills, to be presented at the regular session of Parliament meeting in November, were not explained in detail.

Political sources expected the first to tighten France's present loose libel laws, providing more effective means of action against extremist newspapers which spare few words in heaping abuse on their political opponents.

The second measure, by exposing finances of the press to public view, would be designed to make known the extent to which opinions, interspersed freely with the news in the French press, may have been purchased by private interests.

COURT RULING AWAITING

Washington, Oct. 27.—The number of controversies involving New Deal legislation awaiting a final ruling by the Supreme Court mounted to eight when the tribunal yesterday agreed to pass on two challenges of the constitutionality of the Wagner Labor Relations Act. Arguments on validity of this statute, which seeks to guarantee collective bargaining to workers and empowers a national labor relations board to settle industrial disputes. Probably will be heard in December, with a decision in January or February.

Rocque Says His Men Not Armed

Canadian Press from Havas
Paris, Oct. 27.—Col. Francois de la Rocque yesterday denied his French Social Party was armed or organized along semi-military lines.

Col. de la Rocque appeared before an examining magistrate to answer the charge that his new party was merely the banned Croix de Feu under another name. He said he had transformed the Croix de Feu into the Social Party in order to conform to the provisions of the law which dissolved the Croix de Feu. His adherents, he claimed, were never armed.

Two Doukhobors In Nelson Jail

Nelson, B.C., Oct. 27.—Two Doukhobors were in jail here today for failure to pay $10 fines assessed when they were convicted of violating the School Act.

Another Doukhobor was released on suspended sentence yesterday and the charge against a fourth was dismissed. They were charged with failing to send their children to school. Thirty-one others have similar charges pending against them.

Dawning Sanity?

FROM BERLIN AND ROME IN recent weeks have come announcements from two Nazi leaders that they are using every influence at their command to insure peace between nations. The accompaniment of these protestations, however, is belligerency in its most arrogant form.

Europa has to ask herself—can I trust Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Premier Mussolini? Dame Europa may or may not be able to find the answer to her question. Yesterday's dispatches told us that the little deal consummated between Germany and Italy the other day had paved the way for some form of understanding between France and Germany. Two German newspapers, Der Montag and Der Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, have declared that the time has now arrived for negotiations between the two chief continental European foes. Berlin has said that the recent Belgian neutrality decree has simplified matters.

"The security of Western Europe has always been a Franco-German question," Der Allgemeine Zeitung said. "The problem of a western pact had been simplified by the Belgian neutrality declaration. The frontier to be taken into account has now been shortened. Franco-German understanding is therefore more important than heretofore. Like Italy we are of the opinion that the best means of arriving at this goal will be to sign an unreserved Franco-German repudiation of war, with Britain as the guarantor."

Der Montag's diplomatic correspondent said Germany and Italy both believed "the peace of Western Europe can best be guaranteed by a pact concluded directly between France and Germany."

All of this means that it is possible for France and Germany to revive the spirit of Locarno, to remember the fine work which Aristide Briand and Gustav Stresemann did for their respective nations, that "next war" will not materialize. But, to be effective, Russia will have to be included. Citing Great Britain as a guarantor presents a bit of a problem. She must be getting fed up backing international "notes."

Disease Thrives on War.

TYPHUS FEVER HAS SEEN ITS opportunity once more. It is now appearing in Spain, taking advantage of the opening always created by war, hunger and dirt. Unless the Spaniards are very fortunate, a considerable number of men, women and children who got through the war unharmed will give their lives to the plague.

Typhus is a strange and terrible disease. It almost seems, sometimes, as if it had been devised as a scourge to punish man's own folly. It is caused, so we are informed, by a virus which is transmitted by the bite of the body louse or the rat flea. Whenever men create one of those confused and backward situations in which thousands of people are made subject to the bites of these tiny creatures, the door is opened wide and typhus is invited to step in.

It is obvious, of course, that typhus is a plague which can appear only when human civilization has temporarily broken down. It does not go sweeping across Canada, Great Britain, the United States, or the peaceful nations of Europe, for the simple reason that the people in those lands live in a way that makes a typhus epidemic impossible.

The normal procedure of ordinary social life is their protection. But when war or revolution or other upheaval breaks into that routine, typhus can and does appear. And its appearance ought to be warning enough that mankind occupies this planet only on sufferance, after all.

All humanity's intelligence and energy are needed for the simple job of making the earth a safe place in which to live. The day when the Black Death killed two-thirds of the people in Europe is not so far behind us that we can afford to forget about it.

And it is in that connection that the threat of a new world war takes on its most frightening aspect. The killing and destruction would in themselves be bad enough, heaven knows; yet the chief danger would be the fact that the fabric of modern civilization itself—the intricate web that staves off such age-old threats as famine and pestilence—would be torn apart.

If we could once get this picture of ourselves as occupants of a world which is more than ready to blot us out of the picture if we give it a chance—if we could see what a narrow margin it is, after all, that saves us from death by starvation and plague—we might get sense enough to stop destroying our defences by making war on one another.

The race has enough of a job defending itself against its natural enemies. And as it increases the complexity of its social organization, it increases its defences—but, also, it makes itself all the more vulnerable, if those defences ever break down.

Can we, some day, recognize that fact—and, discovering thereby that war is too great a risk to be taken, devise some way of living at peace? Civilization, verily, is just now "on the spot."

Toe the Line—Boys

EVERYBODY KNOWS THAT BOYS will be boys on Hallowe'en night. It is their night out and to their youthful vision everything is right in the best of worlds. Some of them, not very many, however, do get somewhat obstreperous and conduct a miniature "racket" on their own. To this form of meretricious good-natured citizens are naturally resentful.

Acting Mayor James Adam, in co-operation with Chief of Police Heatley and Fire Chief Alex Munroe, who play second fiddle to none when it comes to the fostering of clean sport, want this Hallowe'en to be one that when next Sunday dawns there will be no fences broken down, no gates unhinged and tossed into property to which they do not belong.

In other words, due to the foresight of the municipal services that are responsible for law and order in the normal sense, but more so in the extraordinary "celebrating" sense, a programme of bonfires that will delight the youthful eye will send up their flames next Saturday night under the supervision of the custodians of "peace and good government."

Wires Crossed

WHEN HE WAS ASKED FOR A contribution to help elect Governor Landon, Republican nominee for the presidency of the United States, a Democratic Ohio state senator was amused. He was puzzled a little later when he received an invitation to attend a Republican picnic. But he was exceedingly wroth when, immediately after that, he was invited to attend a meeting of Republican speakers.

It was later revealed that his name had been put by mistake on the wrong mailing list at Republican headquarters. During the current campaign, such incidents have been numerous; and perhaps all of them were not the result of inadvertent oversights.

For Party lines are not clearly drawn nowadays. With liberal Republicans edging toward Roosevelt, and conservative Democrats edging toward Landon, it is not remarkable that party mailing lists get a bit confused, accidentally or otherwise. Neighbor—that is your business!

Misguided Youthful Ambitions

THERE IS A YOUNG MAN IN Belgium by the name of Leon Degrelle who is the leader of what is called the Fascist Rexist Party. It is less than thirty years ago since he first saw the light of day; but he has youthful ambitions which may make or break him—according to the manner in which such ambitions are interpreted.

The cabinet in Brussels—somewhat perplexed at having to publish an interpretation of King Leopold's recent declaration on the subject of Belgian neutrality—arranged for M. Degrelle to spend Sunday night in prison after his "gang" of Fascists had come into conflict with Brussels police.

The Associated Press Dispatch informs us today that Degrelle reiterated his plan to march on Brussels with 150,000 supporters to lend strength to his campaign to overthrow the government sponsored by Moderate Catholics and Socialists and substitute his own idea of government. What that form of government means, of course, we know not.

The average Belgian is a staunch patriot. He works hard and lives as best he may on what is known in Anglo-Saxon countries as "short commons." It will be a revelation to most people if he sells himself to a young upstart who is trying to emulate the 1936 model of continental European dictatorship.

Notes

The two agencies that do most to complicate the problem of unemployment are machines and the stork.

Custom is hard to kill. People used to throw waste paper in vacant lots; now they throw it in the cars parked there.

A speaker in the interests of Technocracy Incorporated at the Chamber of Commerce last night said that in the year 1940 "there will be no such thing as money." As far as most of us are concerned he is four years ahead of the times.

Former Premier Lloyd George is gathering in quite a lot of dollars from a new series of articles, in the first of which he tells an unsuspecting world that "Spain imperils Europe's peace." Even we had a vague idea that the troubles of the former land of ex-King Alfonso might not be kept within bounds.

Four Liberals ran yesterday to fill the vacant seat in the federal House at Ottawa East. One of them got in by a substantial majority. The Union Nationale Society's nominee did not get to first base. This may be taken to mean that the change in the provincial field since the Duplessis government took office at Quebec has had no effect on Dominion matters.

It appears that Hitler and Mussolini have made an arrangement about Ethiopia under which the Italian dictator will respect Ethiopian concessions granted Germany before the Italian conquest, and Germany also will be granted "an appropriate share" of the economic exploitation of the Ethiopian Empire. This is imperialism of the 1936 model!

In ancient Greece, a philosopher named Heraclitus concluded that all matter was ultimately composed of fire. On looking about him he noticed that nothing in the material world seemed to "stay put." Everything was in a state of flux. And, since the crackling flames of burning wood seemed to change more often than anything else he knew of, he decided that fire was at the bottom of it all.

LOOSE ENDS

There are still a few pioneers left, right here on this island, and two of them, at least are of the misguided younger generation—How anti-Communist police help to get fame for Communist candidate, giving him millions of dollars of free advertising.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

PIONEER

NORTH OF NANAIMO we gave a lift to a young woman the other day. If we hadn't, she would have had to walk about twenty miles from a grocery store, where she had gone to buy supplies, to a wood-cutting camp where she lives in a shack with her husband. I thought her story was a little epic of the depression which shouldn't be overlooked.

Here were a couple of kids anxious to get married, without a cent to their names. So they got married and went out to an abandoned cabin in the woods and started to cut cord wood. They are still cutting it and getting paid $1.25 a cord for it. I wonder if you have ever cut a cord of wood, felling the trees, bucking them, splitting them with wedges? If you have, you know how a girl feels after hanging on to a crocus saw for eight hours a day and then going home to the shack to cook dinner for her man, and maybe walking ten or fifteen miles to the grocery store.

But they like it. They say it is better than not being married at all, or being on relief, and they are saving up for a mechanical saw which will cut several cords a day. Maybe by next fall, the girl said, they might be able to buy a second-hand truck and ship their own wood into town and get $6 a cord for it. And meanwhile they have saved enough to put windows in the shack, because it was getting pretty cold at night without any. There are still a few pioneers left, but you don't often hear of them.

GOOD WORK

SPEAKING OF COMMUNISTS, Mr. Earl Browder, the leader of Communism in America, apparently an exceedingly able man and a good fellow, has all the luck. Nobody who had never realized that there was a Communist party in America, instantly resented this violation of the constitution in Terra Haute. It was an advertisement which Mr. Browder and the Communist party couldn't have bought with ten million dollars. With only 50,000 members, the party got more publicity for the moment than the Republicans and Democrats.

Terra Haute further obliged this week by refusing to let Mr. Browder speak at a radio station there and pelting him with rotten eggs. For this splendid work on behalf of Communism in America, the Terra Haute chief of police and his associates should be properly recognized by the Russian government with medals and a purse of Moscow gold.

This leaves 40¢ per sack for the producer out of $1.25 which the board gets, or, in other words, the producer keeps the magnificent sum of 85¢ per ton net for his labor, seed and everything else connected with the producing of his potatoes. When potatoes are selling at less than $25 per ton, the producer will get a correspondingly low return, so you can readily see where the producer will get off on low-priced potatoes, as the board's charges do not change.

WHERE IS VICTORIA?

To the Editor:—This is the season when we read of ice arenas elsewhere opening for the winter's sport. When, on whom, will there be effective action taken by the citizens as a whole in Victoria and surrounding districts to do something about an arena and auditorium so sorely needed here?

It Nelson, a small inland town, could erect a paying civic arena and auditorium, surely it should be possible for the capital of British Columbia, together with three adjacent municipalities, to do likewise. Can we afford in the face of what it means to all concerned to lose our civic pride in such matters?

It is regrettable to say the least, that during the long depression years had to journey to other cities if they wish to enjoy the ice games. Needless to say few were able to gratify even so natural a desire for innocent healthy sport. Investment in an up-to-date arena could not be put to better advantage as healthy clean sport is a real asset to any community.

aiding the grower

To the Editor:—Referring to the Marketing Board, which is supposed to be helping the farmer to get a better price for his produce, I would like to point out the "wonderful" way the grower is being "helped."

My figures are based on potatoes selling at the rate of $25 per ton, and the figures are worked out on a per sack basis.

On potatoes selling to the stores at $1.25 per sack:
Board charge for cartage 15¢
New sack 15¢
Changing from old to new sack 10¢
Board tax 10¢
Storage 10¢
Delivery to store 10¢
Board commission 15¢
85¢

This leaves 40¢ per sack for the producer out of $1.25 which the board gets, or, in other words, the producer keeps the magnificent sum of 85¢ per ton net for his labor, seed and everything else connected with the producing of his potatoes.

When potatoes are selling at less than $25 per ton, the producer will get a correspondingly low return, so you can readily see where the producer will get off on low-priced potatoes, as the board's charges do not change.

WOODPECKERS' PANTRIES

From The St. Thomas Times-Journal "Our Dumb Animals," the interesting magazine published by the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, ponder why it is that woodpeckers, which are not just eaters but insect and grub feeders, store acorns in the bark of pine trees. When the acorns are placed in the bark they do not contain insects of any appreciable size, probably most of them only contain the eggs of insects which later hatch and develop into good-sized worms. How do the birds know how long it will take for the worms to grow to eatable size? They undoubtedly do know this for their actions prove it. After the acorns have been stored long enough for the worms to grow to full size the birds return, take the acorns out and crack them to get at the worms within, discarding any part of the kernels which may remain.

WHEN TRAVELING INCOGNITO

From The London Observer In choosing the title of Duke of Lancaster, the King followed the example of Queen Victoria, who occasionally traveled under the title of the Countess of Lancaster, though as a rule she preferred to be known as the Countess of Balmoral. Most of the foreign families who have lived in this country used incognito. Napoleon III, at Chislehurst, was known as the Comte de Paris; Louis XVIII passed as the Comte de Lille; and Louis Philippe as the Comte de Neully. Queen Alexandra, traveling abroad while Princess of Wales, took the title of Countess of Killarney.

When the King visited Canada thirteen years ago he chose to be known as Baron Renfrew, the lowest of his Scotch territorial dignities, a significant hint of his desire for informality. On that occasion he traveled "with no uniform and no top hat"—in itself almost an incognito.

BABY MEADOWLARK

Judy Van Der Veer
I found a baby meadowlark,
Mottled softly brown;
I held it nestled in my hand
Before I put it down.
I found it in the roadside dust,
I heard its mother cry;
I wondered how it got so far
When it could scarcely fly.
The mother bird flew after me;
I took the bird from her;
And hid it in the pasture grass,
Sheltered from the sun.
How soft it nestled in my hand!
I felt its small heart beat;
A joy today to think of it,
So little and so sweet...

BIG BROTHER FOR WAYWARD

Magistrate Hall Says Friend Is Best for Juvenile Delinquents

The "Big Brother Movement" was held out by Henry C. Hall, K.C., police magistrate and judge of the juvenile court, as the only way of dealing with youthful delinquents which had proved to be successful, in a speech before the Gyro Club at their luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

"I can actually appreciate Bunyan by seeing these boys going down and down into the slough of despond," the magistrate said, "if there is ever a time that a boy needs a true friend, it is when he is on the downgrade."

The method of befriending youthful delinquents had succeeded where every other means had failed, Mr. Hall declared. It had proved to be 97 per cent successful. In a city in eastern Canada where it had been widely adopted, the industrial school which had formerly held forty-five, was now empty.

The magistrate made an appeal to members of the Gyro Club to look after one of these boys.

"This work has to be done unostentatiously. You cannot look for a reward, but I tell you that if you can turn one of these young people into good citizens, you have been rewarded a thousandfold," Mr. Hall said.

SOCIAL DISEASE
At the present time, the juvenile judge declared that delinquency was regarded as the symptom of a social disease, and much as the doctor looked for what was wrong when a person had a high temperature, so the judge in a juvenile court went into the case of the youthful delinquent.

In many instances, the parents should rather be pitied than blamed, and very often they had to go farther than the parents to find the reason for the child's trouble.

The psychiatrist played an important part in the juvenile court, Mr. Hall said. He told of one case where an incorrigible had been pronounced normal time after time by the doctor. Finally the child welfare found out that the boy was interested in farming. They put him on a farm, and there had not been the least trouble since. It was due to the psychiatrist that the reason for the child's delinquency was shown to be one purely of environment.

Unfortunately, Mr. Hall said that the psychiatrist was not always available.

INSTITUTIONS

The magistrate dealt with the four places of detention in the province. There was the boys' industrial school and the girls' industrial school which were for young people up to the age of eighteen. In the case of the boys' school short sentences were preferred as the authorities always feared that the boys might develop a "group atmosphere." However, in the girls' school, housekeeping and cooking and sewing were taught which took about two years. There was also the danger of white slavers which made the authorities prefer to have the girls until they were ready to go into a home.

Mr. Hall spoke of the provincial jail, and the penitentiary. The latter he described as a grim and forbidding place.

"It was not so much the prison pallor which struck me in the penitentiary as the deadness in the prisoners' eyes," the magistrate said.

Bert Challenger introduced the speaker. Angus McIntyre, president of the club, was in the chair.

Miss Harriet Maistrum, Seattle, of the cast of "One Man's Family," delighted the members of the Gyro Club with two songs.

Arcanums Hold Old-time Social

Majestic Council No. 1513 of the Royal Arcanum held its first social function of the winter season on Friday evening at the K. of C. Hall. This took the form of "A Night in the Nineties," and the spirit of the affair was well carried out by members and their friends arriving in costumes

"I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion and gaseous stomach. My doctor found it necessary to prescribe what he termed a regulator—one that was not harsh nor would form a habit. He prescribed and highly recommended Eno, a pleasant tasting 'Fruit Salt'. After two weeks of Eno treatment I found that I could eat whatever I wished, and as much as I wished without being distressed afterwards."

dedicated to the occasion. Games of chance with imitation money were entered into with much enthusiasm. Prizes for the best costumes were awarded to Mrs. A. Wood, Miss Jones and Brother Art Ker. The contest drawing was won by Mrs. Wichter. During the intermission, before dancing commenced, Miss "Bunny" Appligale, one of the promising young vocalists of Victoria delighted the gathering with the rendition of two numbers. The outstanding one was "The Serenade" from "The Student Prince." Mr. Barker gave recitations, which were enthusiastically applauded. Dancing to the music of Baxter's orchestra continued until 1 a.m.

Members of the entertainment committee under the leadership of Past Regent Jim Stewart had everything working smoothly and they received a hearty vote of thanks from the meeting. Past Regent Bill Jones was, as usual, an outstanding success as "chef."

SEN. BUCHANAN HERE TODAY

Lethbridge Herald Publisher to Attend Ottawa Newspaper Conference

Senator William A. Buchanan, editor and publisher of The Lethbridge Daily Herald, and prominent in the public life of Alberta and Canada, is a visitor to Victoria today before going on to Ottawa to attend the conference next week of the Canadian Daily Newspapers' Association, of which he is a director.

The senator is at the Empress Hotel with Mrs. Buchanan, who is making the trip in the interests of her health. Yesterday morning Senator Buchanan called upon Hon. Frank M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, an old friend. He declined to talk for publication.

One of Alberta's outstanding public figures, Senator Buchanan has been identified with the newspaper business since 1893, when he first joined the editorial staff of The Peterborough Review. After a couple of years as managing director of The Journal at St. Thomas, Ont., he went to Alberta in 1905 and established The Lethbridge Herald as a weekly, which became a daily in 1907.

He was elected to the Alberta Legislative Assembly for Lethbridge in 1909, and in December of that year was appointed Minister without Portfolio in the Alberta cabinet. He was elected the Federal House for Medicine Hat in 1911 and re-elected at the general election of 1917.

He was appointed to the Senate of Canada in 1925.

Canada Must Decide Course

Question of War Neutrality Should Be Anticipated, Says Speaker

"Canada Must Decide" was the topic of an address delivered by W. P. Lawson at a meeting of Ward One Liberal Association at Liberal headquarters last night. "National self-respect demanded that the Canadian people should decide now whether or not they should remain neutral if Great Britain declared war," said Mr. Lawson. "Reclamations directed towards Canadians would exceed in bitterness the like reclamations directed towards Americans should Canada decide at the last moment to remain neutral."

The speaker suggested that young Canadians were becoming Americanized through the radio and moving pictures and at the same time the cessation of English immigrations to this country since 1918 had loosened a band with England.

Europe was divided into two camps the "right" and the "left" and a European war could not be anything but a war between these two camps, in which the opposing principles of Communism and Fascism were at stake.

"In Canada we have succeeded in steering a middle course and Canadians should decide now whether they should take the chance of causing a Canadian split by entering into a European conflict," he said. H. M. McGivern thanked the speaker.

A new ward constitution was adopted.

Finance Parley Set December 9

Premier and Hon. John Hart to Go to Ottawa After Session

The meeting of the Dominion provincial committee on finances, proposed by Hon. Charles A. Dunning, federal Minister of Finance, some weeks ago, has now been set for December 9, Premier Pattullo was advised yesterday.

Mr. Dunning had suggested November 25 for the conference, but owing to the British Columbia session coming in that month Premier Pattullo suggested the alternative date in December, which has now been accepted.

The Premier and Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, will attend the conference for British Columbia, leaving shortly after the B.C. Legislature rises.

A number of financial subjects of great importance to this province are listed for discussion. Among them are proposals for voluntary loan councils to assist the provinces in financing, improving the efficiency of tax collection methods by removing duplication and overlapping, questions of direct and indirect taxation and others.

Victoria Radio Amateur Honored

Symbolizing the fact that he was the first Victorian to communicate by radio with a South African amateur, a gold badge was presented to E. H. Cooper, operator of station VE5EC, at a meeting of the Victoria Short Wave Club on Saturday evening. The award was made by Ray Tate.

During recent weeks Mr. Cooper has been in two-way communication with six South African radio amateurs.

Progress in being made in the wrecking of an old house, the lumber from which will be used to build a clubhouse, it was reported.

Ronald Mayell, operator of VE5RM, was welcomed as a new member of the club, and Victor Robinson, Esquimalt, was introduced as a visitor.

The annual meeting of the club will be held at the home of H. Geoffrey Cunningham, 1919 Franklin Terrace, on November 14, it was announced.

Legal Questions Confront Toronto Mothers

Canadian Press
Toronto, Oct. 27.—Legal complications over the question of registration threatened to tie up Toronto's child-bearing race indefinitely today. Lack of certificates for the births of several of the children they claim eligible reportedly tied several mothers to the $500,000 award left by Charles Vance Miller awaiting the mother who has given birth to the most children in the ten years ending Saturday.
Mrs. Matthew Kenny, self-styled leader, claiming twelve eligibles, saw her chance cut off by three with the application of the registration law, but just as quickly announced plans to establish her claims.
Reports of either lack of registration or births outside the city were said to have tied Mrs. Alice Timleck, Mrs. Kathleen Nagle and Mrs. Pauline Clark, while Mrs. Annie Smith, claiming her nine to have been registered, improved her chances.
The spotlight shifted from Mrs. Grace Bagnato when two of her nine children were found to be unregistered. She expects to give birth to another child this week.
Meanwhile L. E. Wilson, K.C., counsel for Mrs. Kenny, made this statement: "We'll probably bring action to have the birth of these children proved."

Circles Busy On Yule Bazaar

The Christmas bazaar to be held by the District King's Daughters on Tuesday, December 1, at the Y.W.C.A. was discussed at the district meeting held yesterday afternoon in the rest room. Mrs. William Russell, the president, conducted the meeting, which was largely attended. All circles were reported busy working for the bazaar. During the past month, clothing, shoes, food and medicine had been provided to those in need, and layettes had been given to the Jubilee Hospital and the V.O.N. A donation to the Poppy Day fund was made.
The rest room was reported open twenty-five days, with an attendance of 1,500 persons. The Jubilee Circle (Junior) will hold a Halloween tea on November 7, and the Ministering Circle will take charge of the supper at the executive meeting tomorrow night.
Silent tributes of sympathy were made to the family of the late Mrs. J. McI. Muirhead, who was an officer of the Ready-to-Help Circle, and to Mrs. H. A. S. Morley in the loss of her husband.

Business Club Hears Book Reviews

Plans Farthered On Boy Wigley Memorial Scholarship

Members of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club were entertained at an interesting review of several of the newest books by Mrs. Gertrude Nixon of the Maritime Library last night, at the conclusion of the business meeting held in the clubrooms, Union Building.
Mrs. Nixon outlined the theme of "An American Doctor's Odyssey," by Victor Heiser, quoting a number of the incidents in the very full life of this specialist in preventive medicine. She also gave a brief synopsis of Gilbert Frankau's "Farewell, Romance," of Lloyd C. Douglas's "White Banner," Hugh Walpole's "A Prayer For My Son" and "No Hero This," by Warwick Deeping. The speaker suggested the Victor Heiser book as an excellent one, for a reading circle, should the club form such a group.
Mrs. H. V. Bartholomew presided at the meeting, at which Mrs. Duncan McTavish was welcomed as a new member, and Miss A. Creaser of the V.O.N. was elected to membership.
Mrs. H. P. Hodges reported progress made with the plans for the Boy Wigley Memorial scholarship, and announced the recent receipt of a donation from the Montana Federation of B. and P. W. Clubs to this fund.
Owing to the Y.M.C.A. being engaged on November 16, the usual supper night, it was decided to hold the business meeting on November 9 at 8 o'clock, and to observe National Night with a supper meeting at the "Y" on Monday, November 23.
On November 6 the executive will sponsor a bridge party at the clubrooms. Invitations to attend the Council of Social Agencies meetings on November 3 and 4, at the Empress Hotel, were received.
Rev. Gerald B. Switzer made an appeal to members for donations to drought sufferers on the prairie. Gifts of fruits and canned goods would be welcomed. Members wishing to have their parcels called for were asked to telephone Mrs. Bartholomew before Friday, or the packages left at the C.P.R. freight shed on State Street, between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Friday.
Miss Clay outlined the University Extension courses to be held this year at the Girls' Central School, under the organization of Professor England.

Weddings

WAKEFIELD-WILKIN
Duncan, Oct. 27.—A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's Church, Semoson, on Saturday evening, when Rev. H. F. Napier united in marriage Edna May, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wilkin, Duncan, and Mary Edward Wakefield, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wakefield, of Surrey Centre. The church was beautifully decorated by friends of the bride with autumn flowers, and Mrs. R. L. Taylor was at the organ. Richard Marsh and Joshua Wilkin acted as ushers.
The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a gown of Revere blue crepe, with touches of satin, a blue turban, and a shower bouquet of Tullahoma roses. Her sister, Miss Myrtle Wilkin, as bridesmaid, wore a gown of rust-colored crepe, hat of black, and an arm bouquet of brown and yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. Arnold Wilkin of Surrey Centre was best man.
After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Gibbins Road, Mrs. Wilkin receiving the guests in a dress of wine-colored crepe, with a black hat, and Mrs. Edward Wakefield in blue crepe de chine, with matching accessories. The supper table was decorated with autumn flowers and foliage, and the three-tiered wedding cake adorned the centre. Mrs. F. W. Dibb and Mrs. C. Cleghorn officiated.
After a brief honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wakefield will live at Port Alberni. Mrs. E. Wilkin, Mr. Ronald Mills, Surrey Centre; Mr. A. Hancy, Miss Olive Clancy, and Miss Hilma Pyke, Ladner, were out-of-town guests at the wedding.

Conductor Has Dynamic Quality

The thirty-six Singing Horsemen of the Stoppes—the Don Cosack Russian Male Chorus, will give one of their marvelous programmes on Monday next, November 2, at the Empire Theatre.
Dressed in uniform dark blue, their knee-high riding boots polished to regimental brilliancy, they make an impressive picture as they march on the stage and stand at attention in a semi-circle, awaiting the command of their leader.
Serge Jaroff, the conductor, has a dynamic quality that stirs these men to thrilling achievements. You will not see him beat time, but his expressive hands will move and stand upward, one finger may be laid to his lips. Or suddenly the arms will make an outward fling, and there will follow a fortissimo of stupendous power that will sweep the chorus to some tremendous climax. Their pianissimo are mere threads of tone that die away to silence.

Praises Mothers Who Play Bridge

Oklahoma City, Oct. 27.—Modern mothers who spend plenty of time over the bridge table and not so much over the bath-tub were applauded today by Dr. Wilbur C. Davidson, Dean of Duke University School of Medicine.

Of bridge, he said, "I'm in favor of it. They learn more about child care taking over a bridge table than they will get home after a pot of beans."

Of baths: "The bath a day is greatly overrated. I've noticed that dirty little boys on the street usually seem pretty healthy."

Pythian Sisters—Island Temple No. 8 met in the K. of P. Hall, with Vera Mesher presiding, when the regular business was discussed. The temple was visited by a number of the sisters from Maple Temple of Duncan. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for a cribbage tournament to be held later. A telephone bridge is to be held at the home of Mrs. W. Carter, Graham Street, on November 3. After the meeting, all adjourned to the large hall, where a social evening was spent. Solos were sung by Brothers Wrapp and McKennie. A sit-down supper was served, during which speeches were made by several of the brothers.

Queen Finds Regency Chairs

London, Oct. 27.—While Buckingham Palace was being turned out before she moved to Marlborough House, Queen Mary discovered a set of white-painted Regency chairs. As they bear a crown and an "A," Her Majesty supposes they once belonged to Princess Amelia, a daughter of George III.

Their chairs covers are much worn, and the Queen has just arranged to have new chair seats for them this winter in shades of pink and blue on a white ground. The work is being prepared for her by Lady Smith-Dorrien at the Royal School of Needlework.

When they are finished, which Queen Mary hopes will be by the end of the winter, they will be placed in one of the guest suites at Buckingham Palace for the use of visitors in the coronation month.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED
SLEEPING BAG WILL KEEP COVERS ON CHILD

As soon as the nights grow cold the duties of a mother increase enormously. Keeping her agile baby under his snug, warm blanket is not the least of these. For however ingeniously she manages to fasten him under the covers, if he is the average restless child, he is dissatisfied until he has wriggled himself out and over and can go to sleep resting placidly on top of them.

Footed sleepers, with long sleeves that tie down over the hands, are invaluable in offering the child comfort and protection from the cold. But in addition there should be a sleeping bag. These may be of various types, weights and materials. But their single object is to keep the child inside of some contrivance that will make it impossible for him to kick off the covers put over him. At the same time he should have the maximum of freedom to move about.

From personal experience my favorite is a large, roomy bag, fastened in the front and open at the bottom, to facilitate changing the baby; made of some soft, light, warm cotton material.

The tiny baby may take kindly to such a bag being tied to the four corners of the bed, but for the older child who luxuriates in tummy sleeping, or likes to toss from side to side, the untied bag is the solution. Inside this he suffers no restriction except that of having his arms under the covers, which of course is imperative, inside the bag.

I find that if the mother has had no success with a sleeping bag it is because she is too inflexible in her ideas to make the sleeping bag fit the child. Instead of the child, the bag. Each child has individual sleeping habits which it is wise to cater to, so that the bag never seems like a prison, or an unnatural or hampered method of sleeping, but just a more comfortable one.

Our leaflet, "How to Make a Sleeping Bag," will be sent for a self-addressed, 3-cent stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Eldred of the Your Baby and Mine department of this newspaper.

Many Volunteer To Save Child

In response to the appeal printed in "The Times" yesterday for a volunteer blood donor to save a one-year-old child at the Jubilee Hospital, there was a flood of volunteers and hospital officials happily announced today they had found a suitable one and the transfusion had been performed. From the time "The Times" appeared on the streets until late yesterday evening the hospital received innumerable telephone and personal calls. The man chosen to supply the blood was Jack Woodley, 125 Wellington Avenue.

Nurses Attend Y.P.S. Meeting

Fifteen new members—from St. Joseph's Hospital, Training School—were welcomed yesterday evening at the weekly meeting of the First United Church Y.P.S., held in the Sunday school room. The worship service was in charge of Miss Marion Kero, with Miss Alice Craig assisting at the piano.

Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, D.D., gave a short, but inspirational address in which he urged all young people to attend meetings which are being held all this week in the various churches in the city.

Miss Eileen Bowman recited two French-Canadian poems.

Miss Gladys Huick and Alice Craig arguing in the affirmative, won the debate, "Resolved that the radio has a greater influence than the press in molding public opinion." Ken MacDonald and Doug Balfour argued the negative. Muriel Lawrence, Rev. E. W. Horton and Gordon Rogers were the judges.

All young people are urged to attend the First United Y.P.S. Hal- loween social to be held next week.

Short Cut to Contract Taught By New System

McKenney Explains "Tierney No Trump" Method That Gives Bidding in Six Easy Lessons

By WM. E. MCKENNEY

When one is in the business of writing about bridge, he often receives some very strange requests. The other evening I was called from the dinner table to the phone. Over it came a feminine voice:

"Mr. McKenney," was the message. "I'm invited to a bridge party tonight. I don't know anything about the game. Please tell me how to play."

The request staggered me. Teach a person to play bridge in one short phone talk while dinner was waiting? It couldn't be done and I did not attempt it.

However, up in New England, Edgar F. Tierney, a graduate mechanical engineer, seems to have perfected a system that will teach the fundamentals of bidding in four to six short and easy lessons. This is the first one.

The basis of the system is the "Tierney No Trump" bid, which is made on hands with a minimum of three and a half honor tricks.

Solution in next issue. 14

This, the author states, is the first "making bid," and the response of partner, if there is no intervening bid, is based upon the strength or weakness of his hand.

A response of two clubs shows less than one honor trick, and promises no strength in that suit. One of two diamonds shows one honor trick and no five-card major suit.

However, the series of articles will more clearly develop the responses. In today's hand the best response is shown and the partnership avoids contracting for an impossible game.

The no trump bid was forcing for one round. North denied holding one honor trick and South then bid his five-card diamond suit.

North responded with two spades, which South passed. Thus both North and South knew at an early stage that no game was in the hand.

REDUCING WAIST IS SLOW JOB

By ALICIA HART

Exercises which keep your waist-line supple will reduce your stomach and make its muscles firm instead of flabby. Naturally, you should not expect immediate results from any exercise routine. It took months, maybe years, for the excess weight to develop, so it is foolishly optimistic to hope to remove it in a day or two.

Lie flat on the floor with arms stretched high above your head—feet together. Keeping hands up, pull your body upward to sitting position. Bend forward, touching toes with fingertips. Repeat twenty times.

MAKE LAZY MUSCLES WORK

Now stand about thirty inches away from a flat wall—feet about a foot apart. Stretch hands upward above your head and, taking great care not to lose your balance, bend backward, making hands touch the wall behind you. Hold the position for a few seconds, relax and repeat.

Lie on a hard couch with centre of your back across the bottom of it. Support your weight with your hands, then gradually lower your body until head almost touches the floor. Without using hands at all, pull yourself upward to sitting position. Repeat three or four times. This, of course, is difficult to do, but it does stretch and pull lazy stomach muscles, strengthen the back and stimulate circulation.

GOOD TO HEAD HELPS

Incidentally, facial experts endorse the idea of keeping your head lower than your feet while a mask is drying or while you are slapping on tissue cream. One well-known beauty shop is equipped with special chairs which can be tilted backward

U.S. President in Washington Speech Says All Racial Groups Aided

Associated Press

Washington, Oct. 27.—Addressing a negro audience, President Roosevelt yesterday pledged his administration to a policy that "among American citizens there should be no forgotten men and no forgotten races."

He made that promise on the campus of Howard University for negroes in dedicating a $250,000 PWA-financed chemistry building.

The president said the government had provided "the institution with three new structures as part of a nationwide programme to reduce unemployment and also as a part of another programme "to insure the normal maintenance and necessary expansion of educational facilities for youth even in a time of depression."

He added the purpose was to provide jobs in all sections of the country and for all parts of the population as well as to enable the people to share in the benefits from public works projects "so long as bricks and mortar shall endure."

Until the customer's head is fully eighteen inches lower than her feet. The idea is to make blood rush to throat and face and feed tissues that are under-nourished. To make use of this theory at home, simply lie on a hard bed with one pillow under your back, two under hips and three or four under feet. None under your head, of course. Stay this way until the mask is dry or until cream starts to disappear.

Ransom Charge Is Admitted

But E. Fliss at Seattle Denies He Was Accessory in Weyerhaeuser Crime

Associated Press

Seattle, Oct. 27.—Edward Fliss, thirty-year-old waiter, whose confession stated he had spoken most of his "cut" from exchanging "hot" Weyerhaeuser ransom money for good times in Pacific coast night spots, pleaded guilty yesterday to a federal charge of attempting to pass $250 in a Seattle bank last February.

He pleaded innocent to another federal charge—carrying a life imprisonment maximum—of being an accessory after the fact in the kidnapping.

He has not been arraigned on a state complaint charging him as "John Doe" as a participant in the North Bend, Wash., state bank robbery in March, 1935.

Assistant U.S. District Attorney Gerald Shucklin, disclosing what he said was Fliss's signed confession, said it detailed how Fliss had learned through underground routes William Dainard, alias Mahan, wanted to see him, and how eventually he exchanged $15,000 for Mahan, the convicted kidnapper of George Weyerhaeuser Jr. at Tacoma.

Detroit, Oct. 27.—The body of James Couzens was borne to the grave yesterday by Henry Ford and others who were associated with the late United States Senator in business, philanthropic and political activities.

The casket was taken from the flower-banked rooms of the Couzens home after a service.

A funeral procession including committees from the United States Senate and House of Representatives, and a personal representative of President Roosevelt, escorted the body to its resting place in Woodlawn cemetery.

City and county offices were closed and Detroit street cars and buses halted for one minute in memory of the man who as mayor founded in 1922 the municipal railway system. He was a native of Chatham, Ont.

Court to Rule On Birth Control

Canadian Press

Eastview, Ont., Oct. 27.—Magistrate Lester Clayton today rejected a defence motion for dismissal of a charge of disseminating birth control information in Eastview brought by the crown against Dorothea Palmer, social worker.

Magistrate Clayton found the crown had made a prima facie case on the charge as laid, except on the first count, already dismissed, that Miss Palmer had offered for sale birth control information and contraceptives. He held also that the defence claim, based on evidence of Dr. J. E. de Halles, that Miss Palmer's actions were in the public good had failed on the basis of crown evidence so far adduced. The claim was based on

Landon Heard In Philadelphia

Republican Candidate For U.S. Presidency Addresses Big Crowd

Philadelphia, Oct. 27.—Summoning taxpayers to defeat President Roosevelt, Governor Alf. M. Landon yesterday evening told a Pennsylvania through "the little fellow" must pay for New Deal "waste and extravagance" which "violates the constitution."

The Republican presidential nominee added, in his birthplace, "preservation of the constitution" and "a free and popular government" the fundamental issue of the presidential campaign.

"This administration," Mr. Landon addressed to an audience which jammed 15,000 convention hall seats, packed all available standing room and overflowed into the streets outside, "wields the same axe which has destroyed the liberties of much of the old world—an unbalanced budget, inflation of the currency, delegation of power to the chief executive, destruction of local self-government."

"Let us then here in Philadelphia, where the charter of our liberty was born, make this high resolve. Let us take an oath that the bell which rang here one hundred and sixty years ago shall not have rung in vain."

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

Vancouver, Oct. 27.—Mrs. Toarri shifted to the south side of the harbor yesterday following the completion of her annual engine repairs at the Burrard Drydock at North Vancouver.

Mrs. Tolken, also undergoing repairs at the drydock, will be completed about the end of the week.

St. Romulus went on the drydock yesterday for considerable repair work. She arrived here Sunday.

No More Money By 1940 Says Glendon

Representative of Technocracy Inc. Sees More Unemployed Next Year As Plans For End of Price System Are Made; Every Man, Woman and Child Will Be "Broke"

"On this continent at the present time there are 13,000,000 unemployed. We are going to have, before the end of 1938, 17,000,000 more unemployed, despite the fact that business thinks it is back on the path to prosperity. That is no one's guess, or belief, or theory. We know the processes that are being used to displace that number of people," said Jonathan F. Glendon of Los Angeles when addressing a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium yesterday evening under the auspices of the local group of Technocracy Incorporated.

"Those who resist change or would oppose change are wasting their time," Mr. Glendon said. "On or about perhaps I should say before—1940 there will be no more price system in North America. There will be no more money. No group of persons is going to bring this about. It is coming in spite of anything we can do. We will wind up in national and continental bankruptcy. Every man, woman and child will be 'broke.'"

TO CONTROL CHANGE

Technocracy was preparing to control the coming change in a peaceful, orderly and intelligent manner, Mr. Glendon said. Science and technology have got North America into this, he said, and they will get it out. He predicted violence, mass hysteria, danger and killing unless people prepared themselves for it.

Mr. Glendon told of the processes that were being used to displace men from the field of labor.

"The mining industry, although yet only 10 per cent mechanized, would be able to produce with millions less men."

The steel industry, he said, was in

Display of Island Artistry Is Opened

Lieut.-Governor, Dedicating Arts and Crafts Exhibition, Sees Art as Force in Civilization; Wide Range of Exhibits

Expressing his belief in the force of art in civilization, Hon. Eric W. Hamber, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, yesterday formally opened the Island Arts and Crafts Society's twenty-seventh annual exhibition in the Coast Hall, 1414 Douglas Street.

"It is worthy of note that in the past years of depression the craft of painting and other arts continued to flourish," he said, and added that this was a symbol of the finer artistic feeling in men which was a tremendous force in the world at large.

The Lieutenant-Governor expressed pleasure at his first personal contact with the collective work of Victoria artists, and congratulated the exhibitors and the officials of the society alike on their work.

"This display must be an incentive both to local artists and to all who view it," he concluded.

His Honor was accompanied in his visit to the exhibition by Charles Baxter, president of the Island Arts and Crafts Society, and members of the executive.

The display is housed in two rooms above the Coast Hardware Company store, with oils and water colors and examples of many crafts concentrated in a long room with an excellent top light, and a few water colors and black and white sketches hung in a smaller room in which tea is served each afternoon.

The exhibition will be open from 1 o'clock to 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and from 7 o'clock to 10 o'clock in the evening until the end of the week.

VARIED TREATMENT

The painting section of the exhibition is marked by the variety of treatment of a fairly limited range of subjects. Island seascapes, mountain scenes and Indian studies make up the large majority of the exhibits, but the execution ranges through all the steps between the conventional pastellized water color to the posturesque near-modern.

There are several notable seascapes, in both the oils and water color sections, outstanding among them a simple study in oils of an Indian family landing among the launches at the Oak Bay boathouse, and a vivid west coast scene.

The posturesque style which is especially suited to Canadian scenery is typified by a fine symphony in greens of Emerald Lake in the Rockies.

Portrait studies although few in number, include some of the most remarkable work in the exhibition. Outstanding among them is a simple study of a girl's head, bearing the title of "Christine," executed in oils with exceptional strength combined with a delicate touch. Fine character studies are also to be found in the pastel and crayon section of the display.

CRAFTS DISPLAY

Variety is the keynote of the crafts exhibit, and the branches include quilting, some excellent inlay work in rare woods, hooked rugs, hand-painted silk scarves, needlework of many sorts, ice-box flowers, woolen bags in Indian designs, beaten copper work, a delicately made lacquer screen, hand-painted pottery in a variety of styles, a collection of cut and polished stones of local origin, as well as other precious and semi-precious stones, weaving in all shapes from scarves to plaited cellophane bags, tooled leather bags and reed baskets.

Of exceptional interest is a picture in silk, found among family relics in a basement, which is so finely worked that at more than a few inches it is indistinguishable from a delicate engraving.

Exhibitors in the water color class are: Muriel Hanna, M. Stewart, Isabel Payne, R. Bullen, P. M. Young, Mrs. Bateman Hope, Mrs. M. Coton, Mildred Oldfield, Gladys Woodward, Ethel M. Reid, Arthur Checkley, Mrs. S. S. Saunders, Clare Hartley, Amy L. Adamson, Constance M. Bonner, Mrs. Weaver Bridgman, Rose M. Willis, E. Maud Bruce, Mrs. St. J. Considine, F. Fletcher, D. S. R. Hodgins, M. Paget, Adeline Baxter, Ethel Holroyd, Maude Leitch, Kythe Mackenzie, A. Barton, Mrs. M. Coton and Eleanor Izard.

Among those whose work appears in the oils section are the following: Ina D. D. Unthoff, Terese M. Todd, Cyril Connorton, M. Paget, T. Adamson, C. F. Barker, R. Bullen, Miss Claire Curwen, Adeline Baxter, Elizabeth Charlton, George Southwell, Mrs. S. F. Birley, Ora F. Pearson, and F. Knight.

Pastel and crayon studies are exhibited by Mrs. S. F. Birley, Constance M. Bonner, Hester Wilkinson, Isabel Hobbs, B. Campbell Newton, Adeline Baxter, and Elizabeth Charlton.

Mrs. Lillian Sanders has the only two exhibits in the sculpture class, both in bronze.

Black and white exhibitors are: F. Knight, Mattie Stewart, Constance M. Bonner, Mary Grant Sheppard, J. Goodall, Vera Waddington and Clare Curwen.

Exhibitors in the crafts section include the Crafts Studio, Mrs. Hobbs, Mrs. Oldfield, M. M. Gross, Miss J. M. L. Hobbs, Miss C. Lohian, Miss Grimison, Mrs. G. P. Napier, Mrs. Houlgate, Mrs. Turner, Colonel C. B. Schriber, Margaret Grute, G. Snider, Mrs. B. S. Hartley, Mrs. M. J. Stewart, Miss Alice Havenhill, Miss D. OPPOSED TO SOVIET PACT

French Public Opinion
Against Russian Alliance,
Says Economist

Public opinion in France is strongly antagonistic to the country's present alliance with Soviet Russia, according to J. de Villate, "white-haired" French student of economics, who arrived in Victoria over the week-end after a leisurely tour across Canada in which he has been studying social and economic conditions.

"The Russians left a bad taste in our mouths. We feel they betrayed us in 1917," he said in an interview in French at the Dominion Hotel this morning. He added that the Russian revolution had struck the mass of the French people much harder than had been supposed because of the number of small investors who lost all their savings in Russian stocks.

In this connection he had an unpublished story to tell. During the war, he said, a Russian battalion had been fighting with the French in Champagne, and had been moved out of the line at the time of the revolution. Transferred to a base camp on a discarded artillery range in central France, they had killed the camp staff, and had had to be mown down by French machine guns.

POSSIBILITY OF WAR
Two other significant facts revealed by M. de Villate were that the French government had circularized residents of Paris to find out if they had relations in parts of the country not susceptible to invasion with whom they could live in case of war, and that merchants in northeastern France refuse to lay in large stocks of goods because they were certain that they would shortly lose them in war.

"The good side of the present unemployment in France is in the number of young men who are enlisting in the army," he said.

"Germany certainly wants war, and it is going to come when we expect it least."

IMPRESSION OF CANADA

M. de Villate had little to say of the physical aspects of Canada. He was more interested in the economic and gave as his principal impression of the Dominion the existence of human suffering in some cities, notably Montreal and Calgary, equal to that in European countries.

During his stay in Alberta he studied Social Credit, and gave as his opinion on it: "You cannot make something out of nothing."

M. de Villate, whose home is in St. Remy, south of Paris, is accompanied by Mlle. M. E. Souillard.

They plan to remain here for several days.

Morris-Eights Are Shown Here

Burton E. Williams Exhibiting
New Models of British Cars

The 1936-37 Morris-Eight cars, for which Burton & Williams Motors Limited, 1001 Blanshard Street, have been appointed exclusive Victoria agents, are now in the firm's showroom. This line will be exhibited in conjunction with the complete showing of Nash and LaFayette cars, which agency the firm has carried with outstanding success for some time past.

The arrival of the Morris-Eight brings to Victoria a British-made car in the lightweight field, which has roused much comment wherever it has been shown. Roominess, compact beauty of design, smart finish, and ease of handling are added to sturdy mechanical features and extreme economy of operation. Tested performance proves a gas consumption of more than forty miles to the gallon, and a speed of over fifty miles an hour with perfect safety.

Featured for the initial showing are two popular models, the two-door saloon and the four-door saloon. These may be had either with the sliding head or, in other words, the open roof or in the solid roof type. Other models include the roadster, the tourer and the deluxe models of the two-door and four-door saloon. Commercial delivery vans are also available.

Burton & Williams Motors Limited have appointed H. (Selwyn) Davies to control the sales and service of the new Morris-Eight. Specialized Morris service and repair facilities are provided.

ROYAL OAK

E. Lohr, Miss Zera Gill and W. Silver.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Messerschmidt entertained at a five hundred card party, when the prizewinners were Mrs. B. Lock, Mrs. D. Wilson, B. Lock and Bob Pirkin.

A meeting of the British Israel World Federation was held Wednesday evening at the home of Miss D. Hewitt, Prospect Lake Road.

As a bow of greeting, Israelites of old bowed to the ground seven times.

Was Father Of Astrophysics

Discoveries of Sir William Herschell Related to Astronomical Society

"Sir William Herschell, Father of Astrophysics," was the subject of an interesting lecture at a meeting of the Victoria branch of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada at the Y.W.C.A. yesterday evening by Robert Peters.

Herschell was the first man to observe double stars and their positions and was also the first man to determine the velocity of the sun by observing the regular motion of a group of given stars. Mr. Peters said. These discoveries alone marked the subject of the speaker's lecture as one of the foremost contributors to the present knowledge of astronomy.

Mr. Peters explained that Herschell discovered the laws of gravitation to apply to double stars, which move in a fixed orbit, but with varying positions, in the same way that the laws of gravitation, which state in part: every particle in the universe is attracted to every other particle, apply to the sun and the solar system. In outlining the biography of Sir William Herschell, Mr. Peters showed how the astronomer's discoveries came about as a gradual result of his interest in the science as a sideline to his profession, which was music. Herschell was one of those astronomers who made his discoveries during the eighteenth century, halfway between the era of the ancient astronomers of Europe and the present-day scientists of the solar system and the universe.

Herschell was primarily a philosopher and a thinker, and this led to his discoveries in astrophysics, which were made in England in the years following 1773. His knowledge of mathematics prompted Herschell to purchase a volume on astronomy from which he gleaned his first information on the subject. Herschell decided soon afterward to build a telescope, not just an ordinary telescope, but one far in advance of the ones then in use. In 1776 he constructed one with a seven-foot reflector, and with this home-made instrument, studied the stars in the early hours of the morning from the street outside his home.

In the daytime he measured shadows with the aid of his telescope, and from his observations was able to determine the height of mountains fairly accurately.

His aim was to find the parallax of a star by means of his telescope, to determine the difference in direction of a heavenly body as seen from some point on the earth's surface. He designed an even larger telescope with a forty-foot reflector and made further startling discoveries with this instrument. He discovered the Milky Way to be a girdle of stars around the solar system.

Herschell's inferences from some of his observations were not, however, all proved to be true in the years which followed. In fact, many of his theories were proved to be untrue. Mr. Peters cited one instance of this when Herschell declared he had observed erupting volcanoes on the moon. No such phenomena have been since observed on that part of the solar system, Mr. Peters said.

SHOWS EXOTIC DESERT FLORA

Lionel Taylor Paints Word
Picture of South Africa By Colored Slides

South Africa, land of the desert flower which turns the arid waste into every color of the rainbow, and home of giant Kruger Park where lions rub up against the tourists' automobiles, was described to a large and interested audience in the Empress Hotel yesterday evening by Lionel E. Taylor, South African horticulturist.

In his lecture on his recent 12,000-mile trip through that country, by means of natural color slides whose sheer brilliance made the crowd gasp in wonder, he brought home the beauty of the flora and the strangeness of this land across the sea.

Moving swiftly from Capetown, where he showed the home of Cecil Rhodes, to King Williams Town, where the hued Kaffirs lived, the lecturer showed pictures of these natives in their brilliantly colored robes with their beads which were used as love letters.

On one mountain range, Mr. Taylor said was a tribe of blacks which still practiced human sacrifice. Into the waters of the only true lake in South Africa a boy was thrown every year.

FALL OF 2,600 FEET

Pictures of a huge amphitheatre of rocks whose sides were sheer precipices of 3,000 feet were shown on the screen. Over one of these rocks dropped a river with an unbroken fall of 2,600 feet.

Extraordinary color photographs of the animals in Kruger National Park were also shown. Mr. Taylor said that this mighty game preserve which had only been made recently, consisted of 8,000 square miles, or just a little less than the area of Vancouver Island. There was a thousand miles of road through it.

People who got out of their cars in this reserve were fined $10, he said, because the South African government deemed it dangerous to do so, and also because they did not want the animals disturbed. Most of the remarkable pictures of animals which he showed were taken from hide-outs by water holes for which they had received special permission.

Lions in the Kruger Park, he said, would sit on the road until the horn was hooped. They never paid any attention to tourists, aside from rubbing up against their cars.

Mr. Taylor went on to describe trees which had pools of water in them, and mines in Johannesburg 8,500 feet deep, the rocks in which at this depth were so hot they had to be cooled by refrigeration.

NO RAIN FOR NINE YEARS
The lecturer showed beautiful pictures of the lovely flowers in desolate parts of the country where there was only three inches of rain. One place he visited, he meg children of the same year old who had never seen rain. On the mountains in that region there was absolutely no vegetation.

Venidias in abundance were shown in the deserts of South Africa. Mr. Taylor declared that the venidias and other South African flowers here were spoiled by kindness. He found they grew more beautifully in the harsh arid climate of the waste lands.

The elephant or half-man tree was the strangest plant in South Africa, and the lecturer had on view a small specimen in a tub. These trees had prickly spines and a tiny tuft of leaves and flower at the top. At seven feet tall they were 2,000 years old, and the small specimen he showed was at least 200 years old, he said.

Mr. Taylor also told how they washed their cloth with the leaves of a cactus-like plant, and how he drank up their water supply in one desert region. He showed many beautiful pictures of individual flowers including strange plants which mimic stones and soil surrounding them.

LLOYD GEORGE'S TOUR
Kingston, Jamaica, Oct. 27 (Canada Press).—Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, British war-time Premier, is scheduled to arrive at Kingston November 19 and will remain three months. It was learned here yesterday. His secretary had announced recently the former Premier was considering a visit to the West Indies.

Senior A Basketball Will Be Ushered In Tomorrow Night

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By Peter Ballaway

ONCE HE IS HIRED, the new manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers will spend most of his time trying to find one of the club officials.

It is the same old trouble in Flushing, of course. Debs, constant bickering between the Ebbets and McKeever factions, a poor organization, senility in the president's seat, and a mediocre club to begin with make the situation intolerable.

Casey Stengel got no help at all during his three-year sentence. Brooklyn club vice-presidents only show up to complicate things.

Stengel could have made a deal with the Chicago Cubs during the season just closed which would have helped the Dodgers. He could have obtained Chuck Klein and Stephenson, the young catcher, for Fred Frankhouse. But he could not find either vice-president. The day of the major league trade deadline he did not hear from either vice-president and business manager Gorman called just once.

But the club again showed a neat profit, and that is all that interests either faction. It seems. The goal was Stengel, as Max Carey was the goat before him, and Wilbert Robinson the goat before Max. The officials probably decided that they could stir up enough interest to get by for another year or two simply by showing a new manager.

The club drew more than 150,000 paid admissions by June 1, enough to pay all expenses. It has the cheapest payroll in the business, unless the St. Louis Browns get by for less.

The club did Stengel more harm by the way they handled the Van Lingle Mungo case.

Mungo is a real hill-billy who gets a bit wacky when he steps out a bit and realizes how good he can pitch and how poorly he is supported. Stengel always was unable to handle Mungo the hard way because the officials would not back him up.

Stengel had to try the soft way and Mungo did not understand and was too easily led to make that a success. Mungo came, went, and did about as he pleased, and the club morale suffered, particularly with so many kids on it.

Stengel's big mistake, of course, was made that February day of 1935, when they called him into the office, broke his old contract which had a year to run, and gave him a new one for three campaigns.

Casey was quite a guy then. The club had drawn very well and finished in Heaven, as far as the Brooklyn filberts were concerned, by knocking the despised Giants out of the pennant in the last two games of the season.

Stengel should have refused to sign unless he was given absolute control of players and trades. But he did not demand that and as a result was out of luck from that time until the finish.

It is doubtful whether the Brooklyn officials would place any manager in supreme command, however. They apparently do not want that kind of a manager. They seem to believe that a manager is there to fire when it is imperative that interest be stimulated.

Salmon Still In Brentwood Waters

In spite of the lateness of the season and real artists are still having their fun with spring salmon in the waters of Saanich Inlet. Week-end catches were very good with some anglers getting as many as six.

Harry Gilbert gives the following list of catches: Jack Barnes and R. Mercer, six salmon; F. Gardner and H. Thorner, five salmon; George Smith, five salmon; Bill Rowe and Gordon Hardy, four salmon; Frank Smith and John Bell, six salmon and four grilse; Dan Thomas and Len Holyoak, a score of grilse; Mr. Redgrave managed to land a pair of springs, while C. Alexander got one.

DOMINOES-CAPS GIVE STARTING TEAMS FOR TILT

Two Well-balanced Clubs Will Clash at High School; Opener at 7:30

Youngsters On Both Line-ups

Basketball fans will witness the long-awaited meeting between Victoria's two senior A men's squads tomorrow evening at the Victoria High School gym when the Dominoes, last year's runners-up for the Canadian championship, and the newly-organized Capitals clash.

This will be the feature clash on the three-game card to be staged by the Victoria and District Basketball League. Starting at 7:30 o'clock, Jennings Florists and the Liberty Cafe will meet in a men's senior B engagement. This will be followed by a women's exhibition between Galt's Superiors and the Cardinals.

GIVE LINE-UPS

Starting line-ups for both the Dominoes and Capitals were announced this morning. Manager Charlie Motton, formerly of rugby fame, in the guiding role, will look after the Capitals from the bench. He stated that Red Martin will handle the centre position for the Caps. Martin will be flanked by George "Porky" Andrews and Ollie Goldsmith. For guards the Capitals will open with Alex McKeachie and Harold Sheppard. On the bench ready for relief duty will be Ian McKeachie and Harold McLean.

Of this club Andrews, Martin, Goldsmith and McKeachie are former members of the Dominoes. They were with the team that journeyed east last spring in quest of the national title. When the present season arrived there were differences in the ranks and these four broke away and organized a new outfit.

Dave Nicol, who will again be at the helm of the Dominoes, announced his first string as follows: Centre, Art Chapman; forwards, Austin, Webster and Roy Taylor; guards, Chuck Chapman and Carl Coast; reserves, Bert Davies, Ken McKee and Hank Rowe.

Of this squad only the two Chapmans remain of the former Dominoes. Jack Mottishaw, the third member of the old guard, is still out of town and will not be available for three weeks. Nicol stated today that he had signed to play with his old club.

Both clubs have brought up a bunch of youngsters from the lower divisions who will receive their baptism into senior A company tomorrow night. Just how they will stack up remains to be seen. All the newcomers looked good with their respective clubs last season and with a little seasoning should develop into first-class performers.

It is expected the first meeting between the two clubs will attract a bumper house. There has been considerable speculation as to the outcome.

Decisive Win In High Rugby Tilt

Wilson scored the lone try for the Reds.

Wilson Bishop, Vernon Varney and Jim Finlay all scored one try for the Greens and Tom Carney got two. Jim McGarry converted twice.

Amerks Still Question Mark

Fate of New York Major Hockey League Club Remains in Dark

New York, Oct. 27.—President Frank Calder of the National Hockey League, "ghosted" about New York City yesterday, leaving in his phantom wake a new flurry of rumors concerning the destiny of New York Americans.

With the 1936-37 schedule published and the league opening little more than a week away, it seemed certain the star-struck puckmen of Manager Red Dutton would be wards of the N.H.L. for the first few weeks of the schedule at least.

Men considered logical buyers of the club declared they had not been in touch with Calder. From a semi-official source it was learned most of the hockey press's attention was devoted to straightening out the complicated credit situation of the club as it affects the major league.

Authorities here refused to take seriously threats of Owner Bill Dwyer Sr. of the American club, who will institute legal proceedings to return his franchise and players. The league declared forfeited the franchise a week ago because it was charged Dwyer failed to comply with a request to liquidate his debts to the league.

THE SMOGGED INDUSTRY

No silk was produced outside of China until about 550 A.D. though the industry was then nearly 3,000 years old! For the entire period the Chinese had guarded the secret of the silkworm—with death the promised penalty for betrayal.

Two stories as to the way the first Chinese princess, betrothed to an Indian prince, concealed silkworm eggs and mulberry leaves in her head-dress when she left the country to travel to her new home.

LEGAL COUNTERFEITER

The more complicated or "fancy" a signature is, the more easily it is forged, according to George DeRabin.

Strong Soccer Teams Chosen

Ireland and Scotland Meet in International Match on Saturday

Belfast, Oct. 27.—Strong teams have been selected for the international soccer match between Ireland and Scotland here Saturday.

The two countries have met forty-eight times, Scotland winning thirty-nine times and Ireland five. Four games were drawn.

Scotland is making four notable changes. Cummings, fullback transferred to Aston Villa last season, has not been selected and Ansell of Newcastle United takes his place. Munro, Hearts, comes in for DeLaney, Celtic, on the forward line and the places of Armstrong, Aberdeen, and McPhail, Rangers, are taken by McCulloch, Brentford, and Napier, Derby County, respectively.

Belfast Celtic supplies three players to the Irish team and Derry City, one. Jones of Hibernians in the Scottish League will play at centre half and the remaining members of the team are drawn from English league clubs.

The teams: Ireland—Goal, Breen (Belfast Celtic); backs, Cook (Everton), Filton (Belfast Celtic); halfbacks, McMillan (Manchester United), Jones (Hibernians), Mitchell (Chelsea); forwards, Kernaghan (Belfast Celtic), McCulloch (Manchester City), Martin (Nottingham Forest), Coulter (Everton), Kelly (Derry City).

Scotland—Goal, Dawson (Rangers); backs, Anderson (Hearts), Ansell (Newcastle United); halfbacks, Massie (Aston Villa), Simpson, Brown (Rangers); forwards, Munro, Walker (Hearts), McCulloch (Brentford), Napier, Duncan (Derby County).

reward to the monks if they would return to China, get the materials necessary for the cultivation of silk and bring them to Europe. Returning to China, they concealed several eggs of the silkworm in a hollow bamboo cane and smuggled them out of the country.

The other version is that a young Chinese princess, betrothed to an Indian prince, concealed silkworm eggs and mulberry leaves in her head-dress when she left the country to travel to her new home.

Balsamo to Meet Real Ring Test

Latest Middleweight Sensation Engages Babe Risko in Ten-round Bout Tomorrow Night; Victory Would Give Him Right to Title Mix With Steele

New York, Oct. 27.—Harry Balsamo, the "belting brakeman" who has become New York's latest fight sensation, faces a test tomorrow night which probably will show whether he is as good as the fans believe.

A slugger who fairly lifts the hair of the customers' heads when he fires a punch, Balsamo tackles Babe Risko, Syracuse, former middleweight champion, in a ten-round bout at the Hippodrome.

After seeing him hammer Eric Seelig around, the experts have decided the punching power the former subway brakeman packs rates him a shot at Freddie Steele's middleweight crown. Now it's up to him to prove it.

A knockout victory over Risko, who lost the title to Steele but remained on "his feet" throughout two meetings with the Tacoma, Wash., boy, would automatically put Balsamo in the position of leading challenger.

Risko, though not considered a great middleweight at any time, has shown himself to be a good punch absorber.

In addition the ex-champion is a pretty good puncher himself, and if Balsamo doesn't catch him quickly he's liable to find plenty of trouble.

So far Balsamo's record of twenty fights shows only two really formidable opponents. Seelig and Paul Pirrone. Both of them were early knockout victims.

the "professional forger."

Working for Hoover Letter, Inc., Mr. DeRabin has for the past fifteen years earned his living by signing other people's names to letters in direct-mail campaigns, motion picture star photos, holiday greetings, etc.

Strange as it seems, he has been offered more money for single signatures than he earns for a hundred thousand signatures on his run-of-the-mill work. However, as these single signatures entailed the writing of other people's names on such documents as wills, death certificates, and cheques, he has firmly, if a bit regretfully, declined.

GRID INJURY PROVES FATAL

George W. Phene, University of Toronto Student, Football Victim

Toronto, Oct. 27.—George W. Phene, fourth-year school of science student, was fatally injured in the interfaculty rugby game on the campus of the University of Toronto yesterday.

Running up under a kick, Phene is said to have hurled himself at Ralph Cook, who had received the ball. His head collided with the cleats on Cook's boots. He dropped to the ground unconscious and died in hospital an hour and a half later.

His death was the first in organized football in Canada so far recorded this year, and one of the few in recent years.

Phene, who resided in Toronto, was reported to have died from a hemorrhage of the brain.

Although fatal accidents have been fairly numerous in hockey games in Canada, deaths in rugby games have occurred only rarely.

One of the last was the death of Peter Murray, fatally injured during an English rugby game in Vancouver in 1928. Six years earlier Allan Arless suffered injuries which later caused his death during a Big Four game at Montreal.

Old records also record deaths in Halifax in 1910, in Victoria in 1913, and Saint John, N.B., in 1917.

Classy Backs For Local Rep Fifteen

Hockey Gossip

Hockey players seem to have a weakness for wrestling. The latest to turn his attentions to the grunt art is big Vernon Ayres, trying out with New York Rangers in Winnipeg. The Toronto husky has little hope of catching with Rangers and he may choose a mat career in preference to a defence berth with Philadelphia Ramblers.

Little Frankie Parker, the 125-pound bundle of dynamite from Port Arthur, is on his way home to play amateur hockey for at least one more winter. The seventeen-year-old boy who as a bantam two seasons ago set what is believed an all-time record, scoring 101 goals in fourteen games, impressed Jack Adams at Detroit Red Wings camp. He will be given another tryout next year but Adams has no intention of rushing his "find" into professional company.

"The Cook boys and Boucher were known as the greatest forward line that pro hockey ever had developed," Adams said, "but you watch Marty Barry, Larry Aurie and Herbie Lewis this winter."

A lot of teams that passed up Hooley Smith now will be wondering if they acted wisely. The pepper-pot of Montreal Maroons last season has been signed by Boston Bruins and he should play a big part in keeping the bear tribe in the thick of the fight, especially if Eddie Shore fails to come to terms.

Without Smith, Bruins' beat Maroons in Saint John, N.B., last night, but had to go into overtime to mark up their 2 to 1 advantage. Joe Jerwa, the Alberta collieryman, drove home the deciding tally. He looked good, teamed beside Flash Hollett on defence.

Announcement by Dick Irvin that Turk Broda will start in goal for Leafs in an exhibition game against Detroit Red Wings in Windsor next Friday appeared to experts as an indication the former Detroit Olympics star would get the call over veteran George Hainsworth. Broda has been outshining Kitchener George in Leafs' training camp and as Manager Conny Smythe intends to carry only one goaltender, fate of Hainsworth is uncertain.

Earl Selbert will make N.H.L. fans forget all about Eddie Shore if he continues to show his training-camp form, thinks Coach Clem Loughlin of Chicago Black Hawks. Loughlin stamps him as "a more valuable player than Eddie Shore, Babe Siebert or Eddie Goodfellow."

Still a youngster in face of his nine years with Hawks, Regina's Muen March is the fastest man in camp at Hibbing, Minn.

Early Games Reveal Good Material For McKechnie Cup Rugby Wars; Wealth of Forward Talent May Bother Selectors

Rugby followers of Victoria, after watching all three senior teams in action, saw considerable difficulty for the rep team selection committee when it comes to pick the men who will form the pack for the Crimson Tide.

In the back division the play of the two games so far this year more or less, cut down the number who show prospects of making the squad. But in the scrum the selectors will be faced with such a wealth of material their judgment will be taxed to the limit to pick the best seven of eight men in town for the respective berths.

The fight for the fullback position still appears a Rocky Mountain road. Ted Colgate, with the former given a slight edge in the opinion of many. McInnes, playing this year for the Bays, has shown his ability to concentrate on the ball on high punt and follow up plays by opposing forwards. His trickiness and strategy may outweigh the more robust defensive play of the Canadian Scottish last defenceman when the ballots are cast.

SMART THREES

In the selection of three-quarters, those who chose the team will find the making of a cohesive line in Kenny Buxton and Ken Fleming of the Bays, Ronnie McConnon of the Scottish and Chuck Sweet of the Navy. Buxton and Sweet are wings and Fleming and McConnon inside. Tried in rep work before, Buxton appears this year to have overcome the indecision which marked his play in previous seasons. Fast and powerful, he is a developing into a good ball handler and while his tackling is not particularly pretty, it appears effective.

In the two games he has played this season, Fleming, a regular of other McKechnie Cup teams and a boy of outstanding individual ability, has shown a remarkable development in team sense. He set up the try Alec Gaunt scored against the Scottish and made the opening for Jack Rutten to go over on Saturday against the Navy.

GOOD TEAM MAN

McConnon, an exceptional team man, brightened up a Scottish backfield that was decidedly lacking in offensive strength in the opening game of the season. The former Wanderers' star would work well with the other boys in the string, while Chuck Sweet, Navy, has both speed and power and needs only to show confidence in the remainder of the backfield to bring those into play.

Wally Stipe, Bays, will probably be unchallenged as scrum half, while Bill Smith, Navy, and Bill Halkett, Bays, may provide a fight for the stand-off berth. "Buz" Brown, Bays, and some of the other Navy boys are available for backfield duty if they are required.

Toronto Dukes In Defeat at London

London, Oct. 27.—Wembley All-stars defeated Toronto Dukes, 4 to 2, last night as the Ontario Hockey Association, team opened its tour of England.

"Owl" McQuestion, Toronto goalie, was struck on the head by a stick during a melee near his cage in the first period. After a fifteen-minute hold-up, McQuestion returned to the game and blocked well until the final bell, although he was obviously affected by the injury.

Victoria City to Engage Wests In Feature Fixture

Redshirts Hope to Hand League Leaders First Defeat in Milton Cup Play

Esquimalt Will Battle Thistles

Four teams of the first division of the Victoria and District Football League will engage in their first cup play of the season on Saturday afternoon with two first-round games in the Milton Cup competition. In the feature attraction Victoria West, undefeated league leaders, will battle Victoria City, second-berth occupants, at the Athletic Park. W. J. Cull, referee, Esquimalt will be at home at Bullen Park to the Saanich Thistles with J. C. Dows as referee. Both matches will get started at 2:30 o'clock with overtime being played if necessary. The winners advance to the final.

SEEK FIRST VICTORY

The Wests-City match should be a good one. The greenshirts are sitting on top of the league table with four straight victories. The City are resting second three points behind the pacemakers. In the last meeting between these clubs on the same grounds the Wests pulled off a 4 to 0 victory. However, the City took a much improved eleven in defeating Esquimalt 2 to 1 last Saturday, and should prove tough competition for the leaders. The redshirts are anxious to be the first club to knock off the Wests.

Out at Esquimalt another good match is expected when the Dockers tackle the Thistles. The last game between these two saw Esquimalt pull out a victory. Last week the Thistles put up a great fight against the Wests. In turn Esquimalt played hard against the City. Although both were beaten they displayed plenty of fighting spirit and should prove great opponents.

FANCY PLEATS ARE GONE AND SPORTS BACK SUITS REACH NEW TOP IN FAVOR

Remember back about three seasons ago—when the first sports back suit appeared on the style horizon? Of course you do! It was a style that may be said to have had a functional value! That is, the purpose of the suit was to provide extra freedom for moving about, for stretching and twisting and bending. The first model accomplished this with a minimum of fuss and bother.

But, little by little the picture changed. The sports back suit was still designed for freedom, but it was complicated by numerous fancy pleats and tucks and gadgets that, in themselves, added nothing to the purpose for which sports backs were intended. It seemed to be a wild race between designers to find something different without regard to how it looked. Oh, naturally, a few of these suits were really smart-looking, but the majority of them were so extreme that predications were freely cast about that the sports back suit would be gone in a few seasons.

A CHANGE HAS TAKEN PLACE

However, designers have checked themselves in time. There never has been any reason to consider sports backs as a fad, as long as they accomplish the primary purpose for which they were intended. And now, after having run the gauntlet, sports backs are back to fundamentals.

Those many useless gadgets that were placed on sports backs have been almost entirely eliminated. In cases where these pleats did serve a useful purpose, they have been retained. So that for fall, 1936, three, possibly four sports back models stand out as being the real sports backs.

The first of these is the old free-swing, the suit that started it all. This suit, you will remember, has two deep bellows pleats under the shoulders to the waist. A stitched-on belt at the waist gives it a semblance of form-fitting, although there isn't even a suggestion of tightness anywhere about this model. This one particular suit has come back strong. During this period of experimentation that has passed, many things were learned about it. And these findings, although making no radical change in the model, have resulted in a new sports back suit. The first version of this model had a stitched-on belt and the jacket above the waist was fuller. Naturally when gathered at the waist it gave a shirred or blouse effect. Instead of gaining freedom through the use of under-arm pleats, this suit gained its freedom because of the extra material at the back. Then things were added to it: tucks, pleats, stitched pleats and whatnot. The only two that have returned to favor are the original blouse back in all of its simplicity and the blouse back with the inverted pleat down the centre of the back. These two, together with the gusset and free-swing will account for nearly all of the sports backs that style-wise men will buy.

YOU CAN'T NEGLECT THIS

The only other sports back that comes into prominence is the panel back. Although some men would consider this too fancy, it does serve a purpose and, is especially popular with younger men. This suit has panels, generally six of them, three on each side of the back. These panels, or perhaps box pleats, would describe them better, are flat and extend from the yoke at the shoulders to the waist. This suit gives freedom much the same way as the blouse back, through extra fullness of the back instead of under arm pleats.

And with that you have the sports back story for fall. All of these models mentioned are exceptionally popular in double-breasted as well as single-breasted. Although the double-breasted is a more "dressy" style, and really should never be considered as a sports back.

GAY COMEDY AT DOMINION

Mary Brian Has Feminine Lead in Picture Entitled "Three Married Men"

Three particular favorites hold the screen of the Dominion Theatre, where Paramount's farce film "Three Married Men" had its opening today. The three are Roscoe Karns, William Frawley and Lynne Overman, character actors and comedians who have brightened many a cinema evening in months past, individually and in pairs.

The trio, with lovely Mary Brian, are cast for the first time together in top roles of "Three Married Men," and they succeed in producing a thoroughly entertaining programme of gag-filled comedy, smoothly presented. Eddie Buzzell, director, has given the veteran funsters ample opportunity to get in their best work.

"Three Married Men" features a screen play written by Dorothy Parker and Alan Campbell, revolving about the troubles of a young couple—Karns and Miss Brian—both before and after a family-opposed marriage.

considered as a sports back, it has grown so in favor that it has forced recognition as a style suit. And it was the double-breasted more than anything else that dictated the change to simplicity.

EXTRA STYLE DETAILS ON SPORTS BACKS

In spite of all we've said about the return of simplicity, we have also said that where fancy details served a functional purpose they were retained. This is true of saddle-bag pockets. Many of the models mentioned may be had with these pockets that really can be loaded down without pulling the coat out of shape.

And there are the reasons why sports back suits are no longer considered a fad, why sports back suits are being seen more and more at offices and for business wear.

"The Bad Man"
Is Presented

Enid Cole Players Are Well Supported in Empire Performance

For the first of a series of winter season drama performances, Miss Enid Cole, director of the Cole Players, made the fortunate choice of Emerson Brown's "The Bad Man," which had its opening at the Empire Theatre last night.

Well supported by the public, the production drew merited applause and two curtain calls were given the players at the close.

In the role of Pancho Lopez, central figure of the piece, Robert Reid-out showed the benefit of Hollywood movie experience with a notable performance. He was ably supported by Miss Cole as Lucia Pell, the feminine lead, and Brian Rennie's interpretation of Henry Smith, an elderly character part, was cleverly done.

The story of how Lopez, a bandit chief, extricates young Gilbert Jones (Frank Taylor) from financial difficulties which have beset his ranch on the Mexican border of Arizona, is well known to theatre and radio followers. Mr. Pell (Donald Drake), a Wall Street capitalist, and Hardy (Dennis Humphreys), a lawyer who holds the mortgage, have discovered oil on the ranch and are endeavoring to squeeze Jones out of it when Lopez appears on the scene. Arriving to raid the ranch and ride off with the women, he turns into Jones's benefactor after discovering that the young hero had once saved his life.

Through a series of dramatic situations he delivers Jones of his troubles and finally presents him with his youthful sweetheart after her husband, Pell, dies under the bandit's gun.

The whole action takes place in the living-room of the ranch house, for which the settings were ably done by Boyd McGill. The production was stage managed by Roy Goldfinch.

The other parts were taken by the following: "Red" Gordon, Fraser; Angela Hardy, Miss Mary Lindgren; Pedro, John Ryan; Venustiano, Richard Gatehouse; Alverado, Miss Dorothy Ganner; Bradley, Gregory Crawley; Blake, William E. Knowlton.

The production will be repeated tonight.

OAK BAY THEATRE

"I Found Stella Parish," one of the pictures in the twin-bill at the Oak Bay Theatre, is one of the most powerful dramatic productions in which the brilliant Kay Francis has appeared. The companion picture is the much-discussed "Whipsaw," in which adventure and romance, drama and comedy are skillfully blended. It is a story which concerns itself with smuggled jewels, with Myrna Loy as a member of an international gang of jewel thieves.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

"The Harvester," romantic comedy based on the beloved Gene Stratton Porter novel comes to the Columbia Theatre today. Co-starring with Alice Brady in this plain but delightful tale of an Indiana farm boy and his tarty romance are Russell Hardie, Ann Rutherford, Cora Sue Collins, Eddie Nugent, Frank Craven, Emma Dunn, Joyce Compton, Roy Atwell and Fern Emmett.

ATLAS THEATRE

Universal's "The Sea Spoilers," is now at the Atlas Theatre.

The picture offers John Wayne in his first starring role under the Universal banner.

The breaking up of a relentless ring of seal poachers, on the world famous seal rookeries of Pribiloff Islands, is the central theme of the story. While John Wayne, as commander of a coastguard cutter, is chasing the poachers, his sweetheart, played by Nan Grey, is kidnapped and held hostage by the gang.

Tarzan And The Leopard Men

The triumphant cry of the Leopard Men was premature, for the mighty Tarzan had not yet begun to fight. He descended a little farther now and planted his foot in the face of the foremost Leopard Man. With a strong push he sent the savage tumbling to the ground.

On the ground, an excited archer, forgetting the leader's command that the white men were to be captured alive, prepared to discharge an arrow at the ape-man. Tarzan's quick eye saw the move. He hastily grabbed his rope and twirled the loop at the foe.

No cowboy of the western plains of America, no gaucho of the Argentine pampas could have thrown a lasso more skillfully. For Tarzan since early youth had been adapted with the rope. The loop spun through the air and entangled the startled warrior below.

Tarzan pulled the rope taut. Then he jerked the warrior from the ground and swung him as a giant slug through the confused ranks of his enemies. But at that moment, another cat-like Leopard Man was preparing a sly move to bring the Jungle Lord to his doom!

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—What is a jilted girl to do? Shall I tell my friends that I have been given the air, or what? I was engaged to a young man who was sent by his firm to a foreign country. He was to be gone three years and at the end of that time he was coming back to marry me. But it seems that he has met over there some one whom he prefers to me. He writes to me very frankly that when he asked me to marry him he honestly believed that he loved me, but since he has found this girl he realizes that he didn't know what love was or what a man could feel for a woman. He simply raves over her and is terribly sorry about hurting me, but life without her would be insupportable. Of course, I am mortified and grieved, more hurt in pride than heart, I suspect, but what am I to do about it? What should be my attitude?

X-FIANCER.

Answer—Go down on your knees in a prayer of thanksgiving that the young man found out the true state of his affections for you and discovered his real mate before you were married. Instead of afterward. God has been good to you in that you have been saved from being one of the wives who is merely tolerated by a husband whose little flame of passion has burned down to ashes; or, worse still, from being one of the tragic wives who eats her heart out in bitterness knowing that her husband loves some other woman and that he resents her because she stands between him and happiness.

A broken engagement is a scratch that may sting and hurt at the time, but it will heal without leaving even a scar behind. But a broken-up marriage deals a woman a wound that festers in her soul and bleeds and aches as long as she lives.

I can think of no more cruel fate that can befall a woman than to be married to a man who has married her for the sake of duty, or because he had not the courage to break an engagement after he had found out that he no longer cared for her and that she had lost for him whatever charm and allure she once had. No position, it seems to me, could be so humiliating as to be an unwanted wife, one who has merely endured instead of being desired; one to whom a man came back reluctantly at the end of an evening of jolliness; one whose very touch was repulsive to him, because she represented to him all that he had sacrificed for her.

No man could be a good husband under such conditions, or make any woman happy. He would be more than human. He would have to be a saint if he were not grouchy and gloomy, cold and indifferent, bitter and sarcastic, and if in the end he did not turn from her to some other woman.

So be glad. Get out the cymbals and rejoice that you have been saved from going through this martyrdom. Nor should you in any way blame the young man because he has been swept away on a tidal wave of the grand passion, and has discovered what he felt for you was merely faking, not love at all. What has happened to him was something beyond his control. The one thing that none of us can do is to love to order.

Doubtless it is inevitable that you should have your pride hurt by having your fiancé fall out of love with you and in love with another girl. But why not save your face by not telling any one about it? It is unnecessary to inform your friends of all the details. All that is needed for you to say is that you and he have decided to break the engagement.

Emulate the example of a woman who had the true sporting spirit and who, when her lover tired of her and forsook her for another, said: "I won him like a woman, I lose him like a lady." And that was that.

DEAR MISS DIX—There is a girl who comes to our office each day just to visit and takes up about an hour of our time, thus demoralizing our schedule and forcing us to work overtime. I have tried in every way to let her know in a nice way that my work must be done and that she is making my job harder. What should be done to office visitors?

READER.

Answer—Something very unpleasant with boiling oil in it should be done, not only to office visitors, but to all chronic visitors who kill the time of busy people. All of us are afflicted by one or more of these pests, idle men and women who drop in on us at our most rushed moment and who stay and stay and stay, regardless of our broad hints about how busy we are and how important it is that we should get letters off in the mail, or the baby bathed, or the children's lunch started.

It is folly to use gentle methods on these time-stealers because their hides are as thick as that of a rhinoceros and nothing short of a harpoon will go through it. Hence, the only thing to do is to tell them bluntly that you have work to do and cannot be interrupted and that they will have to go, or to shut the door in their faces. If it makes them mad, so much the better. All busy people have to use this drastic measure to protect themselves from time-wasting friends and neighbors, and the sooner you do it the better.

Even worse than the office visitors is the telephone fiend who calls you up in working hours to gab over the wire about nothing at all. Here the remedy is easier, for when the time-killer starts on some story that he heard at the club or tells you just what he thinks of the President's policies, or raly Jones begins to relate all of her symptoms and give you the details of her servant troubles, or to regale you with his latest witticism, you can hang up. And trust that you have made an enemy who will never speak to you again. And for all such mercies, Allah be praised!

DEAR MISS DIX—I have a husband who adores the ground I walk on, and I don't love him at all. He is of good family, educated, owns his own business. We have a daughter three years old, whom he thinks is perfect. I don't like children. I am a terrible wife in every sense of the word. I don't like housework, so he does it. He feeds the birds and puts her to bed every night. He gets chances to go out with his friends, but he won't go. He'd rather take me out, but I usually won't go with him. He is twenty-eight and I am twenty, and what I want to have is a romance with lots of fun and thrills. Don't you think I should get some happiness out of life?

UNHAPPILY MARRIED.

Answer—Sure you should, but why not try to get some happiness out of life by doing your duty by being a good wife and mother and by trying to bring some pleasure into the life of the fine man to whom you are married?

Believe me, my child, the only happiness we ever have is what we give to others, and the only road to happiness lies along the way of clean living and unselfishness.

If you start out to hunt for happiness in having romantic affairs and breaking your marriage vows you may have a little fun and get a few thrills at the beginning of your adventure, but it will end in sorrow, tears, and disgrace.

Uncle Wiggily Makes a Pen

By HOWARD R. GABLE

"What's the matter?" asked Jillie, the little mouse girl.

"Don't stop to ask questions. Run! Just hold of Jillie's paw and hurry with her through the woods. On the two friends ran together, Uncle Wiggily's pink nose twinkling like one of the headlights on an automobile after some one has thrown a bomb at it.

"Please—can't you just stop for a second—and tell me—what's the matter?" pointed Jillie after a while.

"The matter is that I saw the Bob Cat sneaking up on me here talking about pencil boxes in the bushes," said Uncle Wiggily as he hopped slower so Jillie wouldn't rub all the fur off her long tail by dragging it on the ground. "I thought it best to run."

"I think you did quite right," said Jillie formally, now and collected.

"No, he has given up the chase," said Uncle Wiggily, looking back at the Bob Cat. "He's gone home to get a new pencil box. I'm very happy to tell you the truth and was very, very sorry."

"So Uncle Wiggily," said the little mouse girl, "his hollow stump, hunkalo, and on the way she felt much happier. She didn't say any more because she and Brother Jellie had no pencil boxes to put on their desks when the Lady Mouse Teacher in the Blue Tree School said: "Good morning, children."

"Good morning, children," said Uncle Wiggily, who had met Jillie in the woods. She was crying about not having a pencil box, so Mr. Longears promised her one of his.

"Oh, Wiggily, my dear. You are back early from adventuring," said Mrs. Longears to her husband as he hopped up to the bungalow with Jillie.

"I didn't find an adventure," he said, not speaking of the Bob Cat. For had Chase made Mrs. Longears nervous. "But where are the old pencil boxes I used to use when I was a boy. Are they in the attic?"

"Goodness gracious, no!" said Mrs. Longears. "They were broken and thrown away long ago."

"How did that happen?" asked the rabbit sentimentally, like, as was Jellie.

"Oh, Baby Bunty and some of the other little rabbits cut their teeth on your old pencil boxes," said the rabbit lady. "In time they were all chawed to bits, so I threw them out."

"Oh, dear!" sighed Jillie, ready to cry again.

"Never mind," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll make you and Jellie some new pencil boxes, Jillie. I know how to make them, and as in every pencil box there is a pen I'll make the pen first. I'll make the pen from some of the feather quills Grandfather Goosey Gander gave me."

Taking a sharp knife from Nurse Jane's kitchen, Uncle Wiggily began making pens for the pencil box. He was cutting the big end of a quill into a pen point, when, all of a sudden, a voice cried: "Help! Help! Help!"

"What's that?" said Jillie.

"Uncle Wiggily—help! Help! Help!" said Uncle Wiggily, who was at the feather pen Jellie. And in the next story, if the auto radiator doesn't boil over before it's time to make the breakfast coffee, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's rooster quill.
